

HISTORY OF WASATCH COUNTY

Being a Brief Outline of the Principal Events of the County From Its First Settlement.

Owing to the fact that very little has been published of the discovery and settlement of Wasatch County, it is somewhat difficult to write a history of this part of Utah.

There is so much to tell if one goes into detail, that it would be impossible for an article in the space which we are limited here, to record a titling of even the more important events of this valley, transpiring since its first settlement, the great difficulty being in the choice of events—what to tell, and what to leave untold.

Of course, as is always the case in writing a brief history, there will be many important events entirely left out and other events which seem of great importance to many, but lightly touched upon; and perhaps there may be some given here which may seem of less importance than others that are not mentioned. Still, our readers must remember that we are not pretending to tell it all in this article, for to do so would fill a large volume, and then leave much untold.

From the best information obtainable, we are lead to the conclusion that Wasatch County is the very first portion of the State of Utah ever visited by white men, unless it should be a small portion of the southeast corner of the state on the east side of the Colorado river.

While our forefathers were struggling for independence along the Atlantic coast, the Spaniards were busy exploring the interior of the country south and west of the rocky mountains. At that time this vast region, comprising Utah, Nevada, part of Idaho, Wyoming and Colorado was a wild and desolate country unexplored by white men and uninhabited, except by a few savage tribes of Indians which roamed from place to place living principally on roots and seeds. The country was claimed by Spain as a part of its possessions through the conquest of Mexico, by Hernando Cortez.

Numerous expeditions were sent out from Santa Fe from 1770 to 1780 to explore the northwest, but none of them, until the year 1776, seemed able to get beyond the Colorado river on account of the deep impassable canyon through which it flowed, all realizing that it was wiser than when it seemed to be to find a more practicable route to the coast, along which the Spanish settle-

On July, 1776, two Franciscan missionaries, Don Francisco Antonio Dominguez and Don Silvestre Velez de los Rios, accompanied by a company with seven others, started from Santa Fe for the purpose of discovering a direct route to California. Their course, at first to the northwest, but soon they turned north into what is now the State of Colorado, doubtless to avoid the deep canyon of the Colorado which had been so many times reported impossible to cross. On the 28th of August, their course turned northeast, and they crossed the impassable barriers to the west and north. Sen-ary line between the Utes and Comanches. The place where they first came to Green river they named Santa Cruz. Here were six large black poplars on which they left an inscription. They followed down Green river in a southwesterly course for about ten leagues and from the top of a hill could see the junction of the White and Green rivers. They could also see a river flowing into Green river from the west which is undoubtedly the Uintah or Duchesne as usually called. They crossed the river at this point and traveled up the stream flowing from the west for some distance and camped on the night of September 17th at a branch of the river which they called San Cosme (very probable the north branch now known as the Uintah.)

From this point they traveled westward along the Duchesne and with small difficulty, as the narrative states, crossed over the mountains. From the description given by these Spaniards, their route was very probably up the Duchesne, along the west fork, crossing the mountain at the head of Lake Canyon, passing through this valley and down the Provo river to Utah lake, which the natives called Timpanogas lake. The river down which they traveled after crossing the divide was also called the Timpanogas river by the natives.

These Spaniards were perhaps the first white men to ever set foot in this valley. They gave a very minute account of Utah lake and surrounding country as well as Great Salt lake and also a fair account of the Indian tribes inhabiting this region.

A half century later hunters and trappers stood on the shores of Both Utah lake and Salt lake and perhaps trapped beaver and mink along the banks of the Timpanogas in this valley. Trails were made through the valley, along which the Indians passed to and from the lower valleys and their mountain hunting grounds; but no settlement by white men was made here until the year 1859, when Mormon pioneers from the shores of the Timpanogas lake came here seeking homes for themselves and families.

Provo City and Utah valley, was settled in 1849 or 1850. By the year 1857 the most desirable locations near the Utah lake had been taken up and people began to look for desirable locations elsewhere. Reports at different times had come from hunters, trappers, and others who had visited the vicinity, that there was a beautiful little valley about thirty miles up the Provo river and some of those who had been unable to secure desirable locations in Utah valley, began to think seriously of investigating these rumors with a view to making a new settlement.

One bright Sabbath morning in the summer of 1857, some parties who were working at a saw mill in Big Cottonwood canyon, concluded to make a trip over the mountain and look at this red paradise nestling in the tops of the Wasatch. They crossed the range and what they saw convinced them that the rumors were not mere exaggerations, but that through the canyon and built some ranches at the lower end of this valley and put up considerable hay with a view to keeping their stock through the winter. During the spring and summer, a number of other parties came into the valley, explored it, and concluded it was a good place to locate, in other words, they looked upon the beautiful nature "and saw the

In the month of Provo, C. Snodgrass, a Statesman, Blacks, Utah Territory, as said establishing a route through to the east, which would be of easier grade and, for the southern counties at least, nearer than by way of either emigration or Parley's canyon, seemed to favor the project.

Looking no

Whatever motive may have prompted the move, he advised the making of a road at once and a company was immediately organized and the work of constructing a road through Provo canyon commenced, and before winter set in, a fairly passable road was built connecting Provo and this valley.

The above is substantially as given in John Crook's notes, but there must cessors a corporate of twenty first day revision with the good was the count the mount county to continue feasible main tra States to Blacks F Utah Ter od rep ing to as said

Of course, as is always the case in writing a brief history, there will be many important events entirely left out and other events which seem of great importance to many, but lightly touched upon; and perhaps there may be some given here which may seem of less importance than others that are not mentioned. Still, our readers must remember that we are not pretending to tell it all in this article, for to do so would fill a large volume, and then leave much untold.

From the best information obtainable, we are lead to the conclusion that Wasatch County is the very first portion of the State of Utah ever visited by white men, unless it should be a small portion of the southeast corner of the state on the east side of the Colorado river.

While our forefathers were struggling for independence along the Atlantic coast, the Spaniards were busy exploring the interior of the country south and west of the rocky mountains. At that time this vast region, comprising Utah, Nevada, part of Idaho, Wyoming and Colorado was a wild and desolate country unexplored by white men and uninhabited, except by a few savage tribes of Indians which roamed from place to place living principally on roots and seeds. The country was claimed by Spain as a part of its possessions through the conquest of Mexico, by Hernando Cortez.

Numerous expeditions were sent out from Santa Fe from 1770 to 1780 to explore the northwest, but none of them, until the year 1776, seemed able to get beyond the Colorado river on account of the deep impassable canyon through which it flowed, all realizing that it was wiser than when it seemed to be to more practicable the coast, along which the Spanish settle-river at this point and traveled up the stream flowing from the west for some distance and camped on the north bank of the river which they called San José (very probable the north branch now known as the Uintah.)

From this point they traveled westward along the Duchesne and with a small difficulty, as the narrative states, crossed over the mountains. From the description given by these Spaniards, their route was very probably up the Duchesne, along the west fork, crossing the mountain at the head of Lake Canyon, passing through this valley and down the Provo river to Utah lake, which the natives called Timpanogas lake. The river down which they traveled after crossing the divide was also called the Timpanogas river by the natives.

These Spaniards were perhaps the first white men to ever set foot in this valley. They gave a very minute account of Utah lake and surrounding country as well as Great Salt lake and also a fair account of the Indian tribes inhabiting this region.

A half century later hunters and trappers stood on the shores of both Utah lake and Salt lake and perhaps trapped beaver and mink along the banks of the Timpanogas in this valley. Trails were made through the valley, along which the Indians passed to and from the lower valleys and their mountain hunting grounds; but no settlement by white men was made here until the year 1859, when Mormon pioneers from the shores of the Timpanogas lake came here seeking homes for themselves and families.

Provo City and Utah valley, was settled in 1849 or 1850. By the year 1857 the most desirable locations near the Utah lake had been taken up and people began to look for desirable locations elsewhere. Reports at different times had come from hunters, trappers, and others who had visited the vicinity, that there was a beautiful little valley about thirty miles up the Provo river and some of those who had been unable to secure desirable locations in Utah valley, began to think of investigating for the purpose of making Utah in the men wealth in from condition as shall be accepted by the settlement of Utah and Wasatch Counties. Two years later, January 15th, 1867, this act was repealed and the charter annulled and a new act passed providing: "That Alexander F. McDonald, Warren N. Dusenberry, Shadrach Holdaway, of Utah County, William M. Wall and N mphus Murdoch, some were did not com-ry Chelwin, William Giles, Wm. penter and others whose names have been unable to or During the fall of Provo Canyon was of ground, another part of ground, of the present site of Heber City, surveyed off into twenty acre lots and some surveying done on the side of the river. While no survey was made establishing a route through to the east, which would be of easier grade on January 20th, 1865 another act was passed by the legislative assembly of the territory of Utah incorporating or Parley's canyon, seemed to fa-and settlement of Wasatch County, it is somewhat difficult to write history of this part of Utah.

Looking north from Central School House, showing upper part of Provo Valley.

There is so much to tell if one goes into detail, that it would be impossible for an article in the space which we are limited here, to record a titling of even the more important events of this valley, transpiring since its first settlement, the great difficulty being in the choice of events—what to tell, and what to leave untold.

Of course, as is always the case in writing a brief history, there will be many important events entirely left out and other events which seem of great importance to many, but lightly touched upon; and perhaps there may be some given here which may seem of less importance than others that are not mentioned. Still, our readers must remember that we are not pretending to tell it all in this article, for to do so would fill a large volume, and then leave much untold.

From the best information obtainable, we are lead to the conclusion that Wasatch County is the very first portion of the State of Utah ever visited by white men, unless it should be a small portion of the southeast corner of the state on the east side of the Colorado river.

While our forefathers were struggling for independence along the Atlantic coast, the Spaniards were busy exploring the interior of the country south and west of the rocky mountains. At that time this vast region, comprising Utah, Nevada, part of Idaho, Wyoming and Colorado was a wild and desolate country unexplored by white men and uninhabited, except by a few savage tribes of Indians which roamed from place to place living principally on roots and seeds. The country was claimed by Spain as a part of its possessions through the conquest of Mexico, by Hernando Cortez.

Numerous expeditions were sent out from Santa Fe from 1770 to 1780 to explore the northwest, but none of them, until the year 1776, seemed able to get beyond the Colorado river on account of the deep impassable canyon through which it flowed, all returning wiser than when

... seemed to be to
... more practicable
... coast, along which
... local Spanish settlement

On July, two Francisco Antaño and Silvestre Velez de Es- company with seven others, left Santa Fe for the purpose of discovering a direct route to California. Their course, at first, was northwest, but soon they turned north into what is now the State of Colorado, doubtless to avoid the deep canyon of the Colorado which had been so many times reported impossible to cross. On the 28th of August, their course turned northeast on account of the impassable barriers to the west and north. September third they were again able to pursue their northwesterly course and two days later crossed and camped on the northwest bank of what is now known as Grande river in Colorado. On the ninth they cross White river near the Utah line, and on the 13th reached Green river, which they called Rio de San Buenaventura, the bound-came to Green river they named Santa Cruz. Here were six large black poplars on which they left an inscription. They followed down Green river in a southwesterly course for about ten leagues and from the top of a hill could see the junction of the White and Green rivers. They could also see a river flowing into Green river from the west which is undoubtedly the Uintah or Duchesne as it is usually called. They crossed the river at this point and traveled up the stream flowing from the west for some distance and camped on the night of September 17th at a branch of the river which they called San Coste (very probable the north branch now known as the Uintah.)

From this point they traveled westward along the Duchesne and with a small difficulty, as the narrative states, crossed over the mountains. From the description given by these Spaniards, their route was very probably up the Duchesne, along the west fork, crossing the mountain at the head of Lake Canyon, passing through this valley and down the Provo river to Utah lake, which the natives called Timpanogas lake. The river down which they traveled after crossing the divide was also called the Timpanogas river by the natives.

These Spaniards were perhaps the first white men to ever set foot in this valley. They gave a very minute account of Utah lake and surrounding country as well as Great Salt lake and also a fair account of the Indian tribes inhabiting this region.

A half century later hunters and trappers stood on the shores of Both Utah lake and Salt lake and perhaps trapped beaver and mink along the banks of the Timpanogas in this valley. Trails were made through the valley, along which the Indians passed to and from the lower valleys and their mountain hunting grounds; but no settlement by white men was made here until the year 1859, when Mormon pioneers from the shores of the Timpanogas lake came here seeking homes for themselves and families.

Provo City and Utah valley, was settled in 1849 or 1850. By the year 1857 the most desirable locations near the Utah lake had been taken up and people began to look for desirable locations elsewhere. Reports at different times had come from hunters, trappers, and others who had visited the vicinity, that there was a beautiful little valley about thirty miles up the Provo river and some of those who had been unable to secure desirable locations in Utah valley, began to think seriously of investigating these rumors with a view to making a new settlement.

One bright Sabbath morning in the summer of 1857, some parties who were working at a saw mill in Big Cottonwood canyon, concluded to make a trip over the mountain and look at this rumored paradise nestling in the tops of the Wasatch. They crossed the summit of the range and what they saw convinced them that the rumors were not mere exaggerations, but that a desirable agricultural valley did exist here and when they returned to Provo, they reported what they had seen.

Many were anxious to make further explorations and the next spring, Wm. Wall, George W. Bean, Aaron Daniels, and other stockmen of the lower valley drove a herd of stock establishing a route through to the east, which would be of easier grade and, for the southern counties at least, nearer than by way of either emigration or Parley's canyon, seemed to favor the project.

Looking nor

Whatever motive may have prompted the move, he advised the making of a road at once and a company was immediately organized and the work of constructing a road through Provo canyon commenced, and before winter set in, a fairly passable road was built connecting Provo and this valley.

The above is substantially as given in John Crook's notes, but there must have been talk of making a road through Provo canyon several years before this for on January 19th 1855, an act was passed "by the Governor and legislative assembly of the territory of " incorporating "The Provo Canyon Road. The act provides: "That Aaron Johnson, Thomas S. Williams, Evan M. Green, and William Wall, with their associates and suc-

ply with the
on January
was passed
bly of the ating "The pany" pro
and Shadr
City, Utah
Isaac Deck
er, of Was sociates a
are hereby
to be know
of the Prov
This act
tion of the shares of opening of scription o
of March, company i struction o canyon not from Utah Provo vall
when said

Beautiful Provo Valley looking down the Valley, showing Heber City and Provo Canyon.

The famous Hot Pots near Mid and built some r end of this val-

siderable hay with their stock through the spring and
of other parties
explored it, and
good place to lo-

looked upon ature "and

of Pro-
C. ent a ent

od repair with the privilege of ng toll thereon with such specific

as shall be established by the
said County Court."

provides for the usual

elect officers,
ns, etc., and

bonds to the
Utah in the

tion for the conditions

to secure all
that may ac-

which bonds
d filed with the County.

to have mis-

some way did not com-

cessors are hereby constituted a body corporate and politic for the term of twenty years from and after the first day of April, 1875, subject to the revision of the legislature at any time, with the exclusive right of making a good wagon road to the acceptance of the county court of Utah county from the mouth of Provo canyon in Utah county to Kamas prairie, thence to continue northeasterly on the most feasible route until it intercepts the main traveled road from the United States to Great Salt Lake City, near Blacks Fork in Green river county, Utah Territory, and keep the same in good repair with the privilege of charging toll thereon with such specific
as shall be established by the
said County Court."

provides for the usual
elect officers,
ns, etc., and
bonds to the
Utah in the
tion for the conditions
to secure all
that may ac-
which bonds
d filed with the County.

to have mis-

some way did not com-

cepted by the selectment of Wasatch and Utah counties, said company are hereby authorized to collect toll thereon as provided in Section 5 of this act.

"In case the said road or the bridges thereon are suffered to get out of repair, a majority of the selectmen of the counties of Utah and Wasatch may order the gate to be thrown open and the collection of toll stopped until the necessary repairs are made."

The toll authorized is as follows:
For every carriage or vehicle drawn by two animals, $1.00; for every additional pair of animals, 50 cents; for each horse or mule led, rode, or packed, 50 cents; for sheep, goats, and hogs, each 5 cents; for every loose animal of the horse or cattle kind, 15 cents.

The charter expires after the term of twenty years and the road shall then "become the property of the common wealth in good condition as shall be accepted by the selectmen of Utah and Wasatch Counties.

Two years later, January 15th, 1867, this act was repealed and the charter annulled and a new act passed providing: "That Alexander F. Mc-Donald, Warren N. Dusenberry, Shadrach Holdaway, of Utah County, William M. Wall and Nymphus Murdock, al pair of animals, $1.00; each vehicle drawn by one animal, $75; each packed mule, 15 cents; each horseman 15 cents; for loose horses, mules, or cattle, each 10 cents; for sheep, goats, or swine, 5 cents; provided that persons hauling timber, fuel, or produce from within thirty miles of Provo City shall pay but one way being entitled to a return ticket free."

Notwithstanding the predictions of many "wiseacres" that the altitude was too cold for agricultural crops to mature, quite a heavy exodus occurred from the lower valley to this garden spot among the hills of the Wasatch in the spring of 1859.

Among the first who came about the first of May, were Robert Broadhead, James Davis, William Davidson
Charles N. Carroll, Thomas Rasband, John Jordan, John Crook, John Carlile, James Carlile, Jessie Bond, Henry Chetwin, William Giles, Wm. Carpenter, and others whose names we have been unable to obtain.

During the fall of 1859 the Provo canyon road was being constructed, another plat of ground, west of the present site of Heber City, was surveyed off into twenty acre farms and some surveying done on the west side of the river.

While no survey was made of a reache

City, v
of us son p
and R Davis
them.
his fan
the fir
were a raised
of 1859.

A dau Davidso
early in
was the satch co
panogas
river an One c large w
with wil dirt nea
miles ne
As this from En
tive dw
The sprin
and it is

A few came, an
Giles, Jo
Carlile a
About Fuller, d
Utah cou
Heber Ci
establishe street on as George first line of Main st 24 rods rods wide
into four of eight b
west of th into block tangle pra mile long wide. Th
the townsi 1870, enter
judge of th
The east
some month
seven rods
Heber City
of a mile w
stead by Jo
ting patent 40's of his
to the prob ty to be le
sold, the pr of the con
City. This Shelton int blocks being east and we
and south wide, excep
seven rods.

Prior to

out 80 rods s

are now Fir

streets, and

North street

There wer

ber during t

having house

except three.

Looking north from Central School House, showing upper part of Provo Valley.

ough to the
easier grade
ties at least,
her emigra-
seemed to fa-ave prompt-
the making

ply with the provisions of the act, for on January 20th, 1865, another act was passed by the legislative assembly of the territory of Utah incorporating "The Provo Canal Company" providing "that William M. Wall, Warren N. Dusenberry, Shadrock Holdaway, of Provo City, Utah County, Joseph S. Murdock, of Wasatch County, and such other persons as may become stockholders in the corporation hereby incorporated, are made and constituted a body corporate as hereinafter specified, etc." his act is somewhat similar to the one of two years previous except in townsite, it was understood and agreed that a tract one mile square should be reserved as a townsite where Heber City now stands. During the summer several ranches had been built in the lower end of the valley, considerable hay put up and several hun-

Prior to
out 80 rods s
are now Fir
streets, and North street
There wer
ber during t
having house
except three.

Utah in the men wealth in good condition as shall be accepted by the settlement of Utah and Wasatch Counties. That Alexander F. McDonald, Warren N. Dusenberry, Shadrach Holdaway, of Utah County, William M. Wall and Nymphus Murdock, and others whose names we have been unable to obtain, being the full of the canyon road, another place of the present site of Heber City, was surveyed off into twenty acre farms and some surveying done on the west side of the river. While no survey was made of a te through to the be of easier grade n counties at least, y of either emigra- tion, seemed to fa-may have prompt- ly the making nd a company was zed and the work ad through Provo and before winter assable road was vo and this valley. stantially as given es, but there must f making a road yon several years January 19th 1855, "by the Governor mbly of the terri- ating "The Provo e act provides: n. Thomas S. Wil- een, and William sociates and sucply with the provisions of the act, for on January 20th, 1865 another act was passed by the legislative assembly of the territory of Utah incorporating "The Provo Canyon Road Company" providing "that William Miller and Shadrach Holdaway, of Provo City, Utah County, Joseph S. Murdock, Isaac Decker, and David ManWagoner, of Wasatch County, with their associates and successors be and they are hereby created a body corporate to be known by the name and style of the Provo Canyon Road Company."

Looking north from Central School House, showing upper part of Provo Valley.

This act provides for the capitaliza- tion of the company for one thousand shares of fifty dollars each and the opening of the company books for sub- scription on or before the first day of March, 1865. The object of the company is declared to be "the con- struction of a road through Provo canyon not less than twenty feet wide, from Utah valley, Utah County, to Provo valley, Wasatch county, and when said road is constructed and ac-of Wasatch County, and such other persons as may become stockholders in the corporation hereby incorporated, are made and constituted a body cor- porate as hereinafter specified, etc." This act is somewhat similar to the one of two years previous except in the wording of the object and aims of the company, which are set forth in Section 5 as follows:—"The said company shall have the right and privilege and the same is hereby granted to complete a substantial wagon road through Provo canyon commencing at Provo City and extending through said canyon to Provo valley in Wasatch county; and when the aforesaid com- pany shall have completed said road to the acceptance of the territorial Road Commissioner, a toll gate may be established thereon and toll collect- ed at the following rates: For each vehicle drawn by two animals, $1.50; for each vehicle drawn by four ani- mals, $2.00; for each vehicle drawn by six animals, $2.50; each additiontownsite, it was understood and agreed that a tract one mile square should be reserved as a townsite where He- ber City now stands. During the sum- mer several ranches had been built in the lower end of the valley, consid- erable hay put up and several hun- dred head of cattle were fed here during the winter of 1858-9, by Bean, Wall, Meeks, Daniels, and others.

John Crook in his journal, says: "April 30, 1859, we camped at a snow slide in Provo canyon that night. The next morning we pulled our wa- gons to pieces and carried them to the top of the snow slide which was about quarter of a mile wide. Our May Day excursion consisted of travel- ing up the canyon from the snow slide to Wm. Wall's ranch where we camped. The next day we crossed Daniels' creek on the ice. There were heavy drifts of snow behind the willow bunches. We thought we were the first settlers to arrive in the valley that spring, but when we

As l from five and A can Gile Carl A Full Utah Heb esta stre as C first of 24 rods into of e west into tang mile wide the t 1870 judg Th some sever Hebe of a stea ting 40's to th ly to sold, of th City. She block east and wide. seven Pri out 8 are n stree North Th ber of hav excep built the T one l Lee, half Jame of th twee corne As the h as fo On Thon rum Broad sions Jones by J Cox, showing Heber City

The famous Hot Pots near Midway.

cepted by the selectment of Wasatch and Utah counties, said company are hereby authorized to collect toll thereon as provided in Section 5 of this act.

"In case the said road or the bridges thereon are suffered to get out of repair, a majority of the selectmen of the counties of Utah and Wasatch may order the gate to be thrown open and the collection of toll stopped until the necessary repairs are made."

The toll authorized is as follows: For every carriage or vehicle drawn by two animals, $1.00; for every additional pair of animals, 50 cents; for each horse or mule led, rode, or packed, 50 cents; for sheep, goats, and hogs, each 5 cents; for every loose animal of the horse or cattle kind, 15 cents.

The charter expires after the term of twenty years and the road shall then "become the property of the common wealth in good condition as shall be accepted by the selectmen of Utah and Wasatch Counties."

Two years later, January 15th, 1867, this act was repealed and the charter annulled and a new act passed providing: "That Alexander F. McDonald, Warren N. Dusenberry, Shadrach Holdaway, of Utah County, William M. Wall and Nymphus Murdock, al pair of animals, $1.00; each vehicle drawn by one animal, $75; each packed mule, 15 cents; each horseman 15 cents; for loose horses, mules, or cattle, each 10 cents; for sheep, goats, or swine, 5 cents; provided that persons hauling timber, fuel, or produce from within thirty miles of Provo City shall pay but one way being entitled to a return ticket free."

Notwithstanding the predictions of many "wiseacres" that the attitude was too cold for agricultural crops to mature, quite a heavy exodus occurred from the lower valley to this garden spot among the hills of the Wasatch in the spring of 1859.

Among the first who came about the first of May, were Robert Broadhead, James Davis, William Davidson, Charles N. Carroll, Thomas Rasband, John Jordan, John Crook, John Carlile, James Carlile, Jessie Bond, Henry Chatwin, William Giles, Wm. Carpenter, and others whose names we have been unable to obtain.

During the fall of 1859, the Provo canyon road was being constructed, another plat of ground, west of the present site of Heber City, was surveyed off into twenty acre farms and some surveying done on the west side of the river.

While no survey was made of a

reached the present site of Heber City, we say two teams plowing north of us which proved to be Wm. Davidson plowing with two yoke of oxen and Robert Broadhead and James Davis with a similar outfit between them. We found that W. Davidson had his family here, which I believe, was the first family in the valley. There were about 1,000 bushels of grain raised in the valley during the season of 1859, at Heber, Midway and Center."

A daughter was born to Mrs. Ellen Davidson, wife of Wm. Davidson, early in November of this year. This was the first white child born in Wasatch county. She was named Timpanogas, the Indian name for Provo river and valley.

One company who came built a large wickiup of poles, covering it with willows, long wheat grass, and dirt near a large spring about two miles north of Heber City townsite. As this party were mostly immigrants from England they named their primitive dwelling the "London Wickiup." The spring was called "London Spring" and it is so called today.

A few weeks later another company came, among whom were Thomas H. Giles, John Giles, Hiram Oaks, Geo. Carlile and Sidney Epperson.

About the middle of June Jesse Fuller, deputy county surveyor of Utah county, commenced a survey of Heber City. The initial point was established at the north end of Main street on the west side (long known as George W. Clyde's corner). The first line was run along the west side of Main street, the blocks being made 24 rods square and the streets 5 rods wide, each block being divided into four lots 12 rods square. A tract of eight blocks south and 5½ blocks west of the initial point were laid off into blocks and lots forming a rectangle practically three-fourths of a mile long and one-half of a mile wide. This formed the west half of the townsite which was afterwards, in 1870, entered as such by the probate judge of this county.

The east half was similarly laid off some months later leaving Main street seven rods wide. The south part of Heber City, a mile long and a quarter of a mile wide, was entered as a homestead by Jonathan Clegg and after getting patent in 1875, the three east 40's of his homestead were conveyed to the probate judge of Wasatch county to be laid off into city lots and sold, the proceeds to go to the benefit of the common schools of Heber City. This was surveyed by M. J. Shelton into blocks and lots, the blocks being laid off twenty-four rods east and west and twenty rods north and south with streets five rods wide, except Main street, which was seven rods.

Prior to this a fort had been laid out 80 rods square, lying between what are now First West and Fourth West streets, and Second North and Fifth North streets.

There were twenty families in Heber during the winter of 1859-'60, all having houses built on the fort line except three. William Davidson, who built on the lot now occupied by se, showing upper part of Provo Valley.

of Wasatch County, and such other persons as may become stockholders in the corporation hereby incorporated, are made and constituted a body corporate as hereinafter specified, etc." This act is somewhat similar to the one of two years previous except in townsite, it was understood and agreed that a tract one mile square should be reserved as a townsite where Heber now stands. During the summer ranches had been built in the end of the valley, considerable hay put up and several hun-

every carriage or vehicle drawn by two animals, $1.00; for every additional pair of animals, 50 cents; each horse, mule, led, rode, or led, 50 cents; for sheep, goats, and each 5 cents; for every loose animal of the horse or cattle kind, 5 cents.

The charter expires after the term of twenty years and the road shall "become the property of the commonwealth in good condition as shall be accepted by the settemen of Utah Wasatch County."

Six years later, January 15th, 1867, the act was repealed and the charter annulled and a new act passed providing: "That Alexander F. McElid, Warren N. Dusenberry, Shad Holdaway, of Utah County, William M. Wall and Nymphus Murdock, mature, quite a heavy exodus occurred from the lower valley to this garden spot among the hills of the Wasatch in the spring of 1859.

Among the first who came about the first of May, were Robert Broadhead, James Davis, William Davidson, Charles N. Carroll, Thomas Rasband, John Jordan, John Crook, John Carlile, James Carlile, Jessie Bond, Henry Chetwin, William Giles, Wm. Carpenter, and others whose names we have been unable to obtain.

During the fall of 1859, when the Provo canyon road was being constructed, another plat of ground, west of the present site of Heber City, was surveyed off into twenty acre farms and some surveying done on the west side of the river.

While no survey was made of a

Davidson, wife of Wm. Davidson, early in November of this year. This was the first white child born in Wasatch county. She was named Timpanogas, the Indian name for Provo river and valley.

One company who came built a large wickiup of poles, covering it with willows, long wheat grass, and dirt near a large spring about two miles north of Heber City townsite. As this party were mostly immigrants from England they named their primitive dwelling the "London Wickiup." The spring was called "London Spring" and it is so called today.

A few weeks later another company came, among whom were Thomas H. Giles, John Giles, Hiram Oaks, Geo. Carlile and Sidney Epperson.

About the middle of June Jesse Fuller, deputy county surveyor of Utah county, commenced a survey of Heber City. The initial point was established at the north end of Main street on the west side (long known as George W. Clyde's corner). The first line was run along the west side of Main street, the blocks being made 24 rods square and the streets 5 rods wide, each block being divided into four lots 12 rods square. A tract of eight blocks south and 5½ blocks west of the initial point were laid off into blocks and lots forming a rectangle practically three-fourths of a mile long and one-half of a mile wide. This formed the west half of the townsite which was afterwards, in 1870, entered as such by the probate judge of this county.

The east half was similarly laid off some months later leaving Main street seven rods wide. The south part of Heber City, a mile long and a quarter of a mile wide, was entered as a homestead by Jonathan Clegg and after getting patent in 1875, the three east 40's of his homestead were conveyed to the probate judge of Wasatch county to be laid off into city lots and sold, the proceeds to go to the benefit of the common schools of Heber City. This was surveyed by M. J. Shelton into blocks and lots, the blocks being laid off twenty-four rods east and west and twenty rods north and south with streets five rods wide, except Main street, which was seven rods.

Prior to this a fort had been laid out 80 rods square, lying between what are now First West and Fourth West streets, and Second North and Fifth North streets.

There were twenty families in Heber during the winter of 1859-'60, all having houses built on the fort line except three. William Davidson, who built on the lot now occupied by the Tithing office, one block east and one block south of the fort, and John Lee, who built one block south and half a block west of the fort, and James Laird, who had built just west of the fort line about midway between the northwest and southwest corners.

As near as we are able to learn the houses built on the fort lines were as follows:

On the north line, John Crook, Thomas Rasband, James Carlile, Hiram Oaks, Brad Sessions, Robert Broadhead, James Davis, D. A. Sessions; on the east line, Richard Jones and Elisha Thomas; on the west by J. W. Witt, C. N. Carroll, Elias Cox, John Jordan, E. T. Carlile, Zeshowing upper part of Provo Valley.

Wasatch County, and such other persons as may become stockholders in the corporation hereby incorporated, made and constituted a body corporate as hereinafter specified, etc."

The act is somewhat similar to the act of two years previous except in wording of the object and aims of the company, which are set forth in section 5 as follows:—"The said company shall have the right and privilege and the same is hereby granted to complete a substantial wagon road through Provo canyon commencing at Provo City and extending through said canyon to Provo valley in Wasatch county; and when the aforesaid company shall have completed said road the acceptance of the territorial commissioner, a toll gate may be established thereon and toll collected at the following rates: For each mule drawn by two animals, $1.50; each vehicle drawn by four animals, $2.00; for each vehicle drawn by six animals, $2.50; each additiontownsite, it was understood and agreed that a tract one mile square should be reserved as a townsite where Heber City now stands. During the summer several ranches had been built in the lower end of the valley, considerable hay put up and several hundred head of cattle were fed here during the winter of 1858-9, by Bean, Wall, Meeks, Daniels, and others.

John Crook in his journal, says: "April 30, 1859, we camped at a snow slide in Provo canyon that night. The next morning we pulled our wagons to pieces and carried them to the top of the snow slide which was about quarter of a mile wide. Our May Day excursion consisted of traveling up the canyon from the snow slide to Wm. Wall's ranch where we camped. The next day we crossed Daniels' creek on the ice. There were heavy drifts of snow behind the willow bunches. We thought we were the first settlers to arrive in the valley that spring, but when we

A

on Mt. Baldy, at the head of Provo River.

protection against the In-large corral was built to called Chuff's hollow, where he cattle belonging to the ere kept at night and were the surrounding hills during Scouts were out looking signs, and guards and sen-re posted on the hills who tant watch day and night a surprise by the redskins. erwise might occur at any Thus by the strictest vigy passed through this try-with comparatively little year, 1867, Tabby came to quite a large company of hold a peace pow-wow. He nted to smoke the pipe of his white brothers and be-soon developed, however, ndians were really on a xpedition. They wanted

t. blankets and other ar to the heart, or stite, of the dusky braves.
lderable parley they were st in the bowery at Heber. giving 80 head of cattle hem long so they could as they were told. This peace was kept by Tabby re true was given the his back so far as can be sk of being considered te-erew give a list of the bore served in each

the of this county Black Hawk war. Those living in this county are y the letter "a," those oved away, by the letter se who have died, by the

Wall's company—cavalry:

Wall, captain.
McDonald, first liet.
McDonald, second liet.
Carroll, second liet.
Ross, second liet.
Norris, second liet.
Donall, sergeant.
Jones, sergeant.

d Isaac Cummings, private.

assistance, Carter, private.

b Joseph Parker, private.

a George Bunnell, private.

a Henry Ohwiler, private.

a Isaac Baum, private.

d Richard Sessions, private.

b Darwin Walton, private.

a Thomas Nicol, private.

d Lybeous T. Coon, private.

b Murray Harvey, private.

d Solomon Sessions, private.

b Elijah Thomas, private.

a Alfred Shelton, private.

d William Cole, private.

a James Carlile, private.

This company had several skirmishes with the Indians; at one time killed two Indians and wounded several.

John M. Murdock's company—infantry:

a John M. Murdock, captain.

a John Muir, 1st lieutenant.

d John Jordan, 2nd lieutenant.

b William Davidson, 2nd lieutenant.

b Archibald Scoggie, 2nd lieutenant.

d James McNaughtan, sergeant.

d Robert Cunningham, sergeant.

d Reuben Allred, sergeant.

a Joseph Moulton, drummer.

d Joseph Taylor, color bearer.

d William Clegg, rifle.

b Freeman Manning, private.

b Thomas Hudson, private.

d William Aird, private.

d Stephen Bond, private.

d Robert Baird, private.

d James Given, private.

d William Thompson, private.

b William Clegg, private.

b David Adams, private.

a Mark Jeffs, private.

d William McMillan, private.

b James Adams, private.

a George Muir, private.

d John Turner, private.

b Joseph Batson, private.

a William Lindsay, private.

b Peter Cunningham, private.

b William Oak, private.

a John J. Jones, private.

a Lewis Me

d Edward Gurr, private.

d George Wilson, sergeant.

a John Huber, sergeant.

John Sutherland, sergeant.

d John Fauseff, sergeant.

b John Robertson, private.

Thomas Fisher, private.

a Moroni Blood, private.

b James O'Neil, private.

d Allen Morton, private.

a Joseph Jacob, private.

d George W. Cliff, private.

Simon S. Hickenbottom, private.

Thompson Ritter, private.

James Gurr, Sr., private.

William R. Buhler, private.

Marino McOlney, private.

Adam Thompson, private.

b John Ross, private.

d Louis Gerber, private.

David F. Hamilton, private.

b Thomas Thornton, private.

Jacob Duell, private.

a Attewall, Wootton, private.

b Edward Condor, private.

d Lucien H. Jacobs, private.

d William Coleman, private.

Joshua Weed, private.

d George Bonner, private.

b Harvey Meeks, private.

b John Davis, private.

d Enoch Davis, private.

b John Robertson, private.

b Henry Love, private.

a Conrad Abegglen, private.

a Jacob Buhler, private.

Jacob Burgner, private.

a Casper Sulser, private.

a John Sulser, private.

a Mary Boyd, private.

d Hyrum Shelton, private.

b Herbert Hosser, private.

b Joseph Allen, private.

b Charles Allen, private.

Edwin Wardle, private.

a James Provost, private.

a Mark Smith, private.

a David Provost, private.

James W. Fisher, private.

John Moser, private.

b David Wood, private.

Andrew Hamilton, private.

d Jeremiah Roby, Jr., private.

Jacob Ertzinger, private.

James Davis, private.

Christian Abegglen, private.

a Ulrich Abegglen, private.

This company was assigned to duty in the eastern mountains and passes.

Thomas Todd's company—infantry.

a Thomas Todd, captain.

b Charles N. Carroll, 1st lieutenant.

d Frederick Giles, 2nd lieutenant.

d Henry McMullin, 2nd lieutenant.

a Dixon H. Greer, 2nd lieutenant.

b Henry Hamilton, 2nd lieutenant.

d William Moulton, sergeant.

d William McGhie, sergeant.

William Haws, sergeant.

b George A. Wilson, sergeant.

d Jonathan Clegg, drum-major.

a James Shanks, fife-major.

d James Duke, drum-major's adj.

d Jonathan M. Duke, drummer.

a Jesse Bond, private.

d Thomas Hundley, private.

b Willard Carroll, private.

b Jacob Baum, private.

b William Chatwin, private.

Edward Payne, private.

Alfred Ward, private.

Geo. T. Giles, private.

d Thomas Rasband, private.

James Cole, private.

a Thomas Hicken, private.

b David Stephenson, private.

d William Richardson, private.

a John Ritchie, private.

d William Watson, Jr., private.

a Samuel McFee, private.

d Henry Nelson, private.

a Noah Mayoh, private.

Joseph McCorrel's company—ry.

d Joseph McCorrel, captain.

d Edwin R. Bronson, 1st lieutenant.

d Jesse McCorrel, 2nd lieutenant.

Ephraim Van Wagoner, sergeant.

a James B. Hamilton, private.

a William Bagley, private.

Jeremiah Roby, private.

d Henry Coleman, private.

b Richard Sherlock, private.

a James Jackson, private.

b William Gibson, private.

d Charles Gurney, private.

a Emanuel Richman, private.

Ezekiel Bates, private.

This company was mustered service at Heber City, May 1st, by Major John Witt and were in active service scouting in the mountains.

Staff officers commanding Wasatch County militia:

a John W. Witt, major.

a John Hamilton, major.

a Sidney Epperson, major.

a John Crook, bat'n adjt.

b Charles H. Wilcken, bat'n adjt.

d David Van Wagoner, bat'n adjt.

JOS. W. MUSSER.

For over four years acted as S. clerk in the Wasatch Stake, coming here from Salt Lake City, the place of his birth. He was born March 1872, his parents being A. M. Musser and Mary White. From early life he has been a member of the fifty men under Major McArthur, a gifted in the Walker and Blackhawk the "Mintage" and shared in the privilege that rest is rustling and is in love, laughter and work in the

At the age of 21 he was united in marriage with Miss Rose Borgquist. Shortly after this he performed mission to the Southern States, and has many important positions in the church. Since moving to Wasatch county his special work in ecclesiastical labor has been upon the record of the Wards and Stake. He is to have performed this work with signal success.

In temporal matters he took quite an active part. Was assistant manager in the Wasatch Development Company. Acted as President of the Wave Publishing Co. Cashier of the Bank of Heber City, and Secretary in the Timpanogas Irrigation Co.

At the organization of Uintah Stake, he was called to assist in the work there and has become interested in land there. In politics he is an ardent republican, believing, however, that the republican party is not wholly good nor its opponents wholly bad.

ment on Mt. Baldy, at the head of Provo River.

protection against the In-
A large hollow was built of the cattle belonging to the rs were kept at night and were d on the surrounding hills during days. Scouts were out looking adian signs, and guards and sen-ls were posted on the hills who constant watch day and night ar of a surprise by the redskins, otherwise might occur at any
ent. Thus by the strictest vigie they passed through this try-period with comparatively little e next year, 1867, Tabby came to r with quite a large company of s to hold a peace pow-wow. He he wanted to smoke the pipe of e with his white brothers and be-

ls. It soon developed, however, the Indians were really on a ng expedition. They wanted meat, blankets and other s dear to the heart, or r appetite, of the dusky braves.
considerable parley they were
a feast in the bowery at Heber.
were given 80 head of cattle
make them strong so they could better" as they were told. This y of peace was kept by Tabby no more trouble was given the s by his hands so far as can be ed.

the risk of being considered teas, we herew give a list of the es of those who served in each any of the of this county g the Black Hawk war. Those are still living in this county are nated by the letter "a," those have moved away, by the letter and those who have died, by the
"d."

William Wall's company—cavalry:
William Wall, captain.
William McDonald, first liet.
Joseph McDonald, second liet.
Patrick Carroll, second liet.
Andrew Ross, second liet.
Benjamin Norris, second liet.
John McDonall, sergeant.
Philip Smith, sergeant.
Richard Jones, sergeant.
Richard Forman, sergeant.
George Clyde, bugler.
Jacob Harris, private.
Ephraim Smith, private.
Wm. Bethers, private.
John Acomb, private.
John J. Cummings, private.
George Fraughton, private.
Wm. Gallagher, private.
Joseph Thomas, private.
Stanley Davis, private.
Robert Broadhead, private.
Nymphus Murdock, private.
George Giles, private.
William Nuttall, private.

d Isaac Cummings, private.
assistance, Carter, private.
b Joseph Parker, private.
a George Bunnell, private.
a Henry Ohwiler, private.
a Isaac Baum, private.
d Richard Sessions, private.
b Darwin Walton, private.
a Thomas Nicol, private.
d Lybeous T. Coon, private.
b Murray Harvey, private.
d Solomon Sessions, private.
b Elijah Thomas, private.
a Alfred Shelton, private.
d William Cole, private.
a James Carlile, private.

This company had several skirmishes with the Indians; at one time killed two Indians and wounded several.

John M. Murdock's company—infantry:

a John M. Murdock, captain.
a John Muir, 1st lieutenant.
d John Jordan, 2nd lieutenant.
b William Davidson, 2nd liet.
b Archibald Scoggie, 2nd liet.
d James McNaughtan, sergeant.
d Robert Cunningham, sergeant.
d Reuben Allred, sergeant.
a Joseph Moulton, drummer.
d Joseph Taylor, color bearer.
d William Clegg, fifer.
b Freeman Manning, private.
b Thomas Hudson, private.
d William Aird, private.
d Stephen Bond, private.
a Robert Baird, private.
d James Given, private.
d William Thompson, private.
b William Clegg, private.
b David Adams, private.
a Mark Jeffs, private.
d William McMillan, private.
b James Adams, private.
a George Muir, private.
d John Turner, private.
b Joseph Batson, private.
a William Lindsay, private.
b Peter Cunningham, private.
b William Oaks, private.
a John J. Jordan, private.
a Lewis Mecham, private.
b Edward Gurr, private.
William Johnson, private.
a Isaac O. Wall, private.
a Francis Kirby, Jr., private.
John Mecham, private.
d John G. Timothy, private.
William Adams, private.
Arthur Kirk, private.
James Allred, private.
a William M. Ryan, private.
Peter Gurr, private.

This company was mustered into
service at Heber City, May 1, 1866,
and assigned to duty in the northern mountains where they performed active service for two months.

Thompson Ritter, private.
James Gurr, Sr., private.
William R. Buhler, private.
Marino McOlney, private.
Adam Thompson, private.
b John Ross, private.
d Louis Gerber, private.
David F. Hamilton, private.
b Thomas Thornton, private.
Jacob Duell, private.
a Attewall, Wootton, private.
b Edward Condor, private.
d Lucien H. Jacobs, private.
d William Coleman, private.
Joshua Weed, private.
d George Bonner, private.
b Harvey Meeks, private.
b John Davis, private.
d Enoch Davis, private.
b John Robertson, private.
b Henry Love, private.
a Conrad Abegglen, private.
a Jacob Buhler, private.
Jacob Burgner, private.
a Casper Sulser, private.
a John Sulser, private.

Mark, boy, died on the river
d Hyrum Shelton, private.
b Herbert Hosser, private.
b Joseph Allen, private.
b Charles Allen, private.
Edwin Wardle, private.
a James Provost, private.
a Mark Smith, private.
a David Provost, private.
James W. Fisher, private.
John Moser, private.
b David Wood, private.
Andrew Hamilton, private.
d Jeremiah Roby, Jr., private.
Jacob Ertzinger, private.
James Davis, private.
Christian Abegglen, private.
a Ulrich Abegglen, private.

This company was assigned to duty
in the eastern mountains and passes.

Thomas Todd's company—infantry.

a Thomas Todd, captain.
b Charles N. Carroll, 1st lieutenant.
d Frederick Giles, 2nd lieutenant.
d Henry McMullin, 2nd lieutenant.
a Dixon H. Greer, 2nd lieutenant.
b Henry Hamilton, 2nd lieutenant.
d William Moulton, sergeant.
d William McGhie, sergeant.
William Haws, sergeant.
b George A. Wilson, sergeant.
d Jonathan Clegg, drum-major.
a James Shanks, fife-major.
d James Duke, drum-major's adj.
d Jonathan M. Duke, drummer.
a Jesse Bond, private.
d Thomas Hundley, private.
b Willard Carroll, private.
b Jacob Baum, private.
b William Chatwin, private.
Edward Payne, private.
Alfred Ward, private.
Geo. T. Giles, private.
d Thomas Rasband, private.
James Cole, private.
a Thomas Hicken, private.
b David Stephenson, private.
d William Richardson, private.
a John Ritchie, private.
d William Watson, Jr., private.
a Samuel McFee, private.
d Henry Nelson, private.
a Noah Mayoh, private.
James Nash, private.
Frank Wilson, private.
d Jasper Boren, private.
Edward Stocks, private.
James Gurr, private.
Hiram Bigelow, private.
Ephraim Hanks, private.
a Francis Kirby, private.
a George Brown, private.
b Moroni Mecham, private.
Reuben Gurr, private.
John Andrews, private.
b J. R. Miller, private.
b Lewis Poiree, private.
John Davis, private.
Louis Wineloh, private.

b William Gibson, private.
d Charles Gurney, private.
a Emanuel Richman, private.
Eze...ates, private.

This company was mustered
service at Heber City, May 1, by Major John Witt and were tive service scouting in the tains.

Staff officers commanding County militia:

a John W. Witt, major.
a John Hamilton, major.
a Sidney Epperson, major.
a John Crook, bat'n adjt.
b Charles H. Wilcken, bat'n
d David Van Wagonen, bat'n

JOS. W. MUSSER.

For over four years acted as clerk in the Wasatch Stake, here from Salt Lake City, t of his birth. He was born 1872, his parents being A.
Musser and Mary White. Fro fifty men under Major McArthur gifted in the Walker and Bla the "Mintage" and shared in th that rest is rust and
is in love, laughter and work.

At the age of 21 he was u marriage with Miss Rose B Shortly after this he perfor mission to the Southern Stat has many important positions church. Since moving to county his special work in ecc cal labor has been upon the

of the Wards and Stake. He to have performed this wor signal success.

In temporal matters he too an active part. Was assistant m in the Wasatch Development
pany. Acted as President o Wave Publishing Co. Cashier Bank of Heber City, and Secre
the Timpanogas Irrigation Co.

At the organization of Uinta he was called to assist in th there and has become interest land there. In politics he is dent republican, believing, ho that the republican party is no ly good nor its opponents who He was elected County Commi for the two year term in W county at the election held in ber last.

His labors in the county
made him some friends and p some enemies, but he has cont tried to do his duty as he saw

EDWARD BUYS.

Edward Buys has been a resi Wasatch county for thirty years. He moved here from ful, Utah, arriving at Charlest tober 10, 1869, and took charge Joseph E. Taylor farm at the Provo River.

Isaac C. ... private.
 stance. Carter, private.
 Joseph Parker, private.
 George Bunnell, private.
 Henry Ohwiler, private.
 Isaac Baum, private.
 Richard Sessions, private.
 Darwin Walton, private.
 Thomas Nicol, private.
 Lybeous T. Coon, private.
 Murray Harvey, private.
 Solomon Sessions, private.
 Elijah Thomas, private.
 Alfred Shelton, private.
 William Cole, private.
 James Carlile, private.
 s company had several skirmwith the Indians; at one time two Indians and wounded sev-n M. Murdock's company—in-

John M. Murdock, captain.
 John Muir, 1st lieutenant.
 John Jordan, 2nd lieutenant.
 William Davidson, 2nd lieut.
 Archibald Scoggie, 2nd lieut.
 James McNaughtan, sergeant.
 Robert Cunningham, sergeant.
 Reuben Allred, sergeant.
 Joseph Moulton, drummer.
 Joseph Taylor, color bearer.
 William Clegg, fifer.
 Freeman Manning, private.
 Thomas Hudson, private.
 William Aird, private.
 Stephen Bond, private.
 Robert Baird, private.
 James Given, private.
 William Thompson, private.
 William Clegg, private.
 David Adams, private.
 Clark Jeffs, private.
 William McMillan, private.
 James Adams, private.
 George Muir, private.
 John Turner, private.
 Joseph Batson, private.
 William Lindsay, private.
 Peter Cunningham, private.
 William Oaks, private.
 John J. Jordan, private.
 Lewis Mechem, private.
 Edward Gurr, private.

d George Wilson, sergeant.
 a John Huber, sergeant.
 John Sutherland, sergeant.
 d John Fauseff, sergeant.
 b John Robertson, private.
 Thomas Fisher, private.
 a Moroni Blood, private.
 b James O'Neil, private.
 d Allen Morton, private.
 a Joseph Jacob, private.
 d George W. Clift, private.
 Simon S. Hickenbottom, private.
 Thompson Ritter, private.
 James Gurr, Sr., private.
 William R. Buhler, private.
 Marino McOlney, private.
 Adam Thompson, private.
 b John Ross, private.
 d Louis Gerber, private.
 David F. Hamilton, private.
 b Thomas Thornton, private.
 Jacob Duel, private.
 a Attewall, Wootton, private.
 b Edward Condor, private.
 d Lucien H. Jacobs, private.
 d William Coleman, private.
 Joshua Weed, private.
 d George Bonner, private.
 b Harvey Meeks, private.
 b John Davis, private.
 d Enoch Davis, private.
 b John Robertson, private.
 b Henry Love, private.
 a Conrad Abegglen, private.
 a Jacob Buhler, private.
 Jacob Butrgner, private.
 a Casper Sulser, private.
 a John Sulser, private.
 a John Neesole, private.

son army troubles, being captain of

d Hyrum Shelton, private.
 b Herbert Hosser, private.
 b Joseph Allen, private.
 b Charles Allen, private.
 Edwin Wardle, private.
 a James Provost, private.
 a Mark Smith, private.
 a David Provost, private.
 James W. Fisher, private.
 John Moser, private.
 b David Wood, private.
 Andrew Hamilton, private.
 d Jeremiah Roby, Jr., private.
 Jacob Ertzinger, private.
 James Davis, private.
 Christian Abegglen, private.
 a Ulrich Abegglen, private.

This company was assigned to duty
 in the eastern mountains and passes.

Thomas Todd's company—infantry.

a Thomas Todd, captain.
 b Charles N. Carroll, 1st lieut.
 d Frederick Giles, 2nd lieut.
 d Henry McMullin, 2nd lieut.
 a Dixon H. Greer, 2nd lieut.
 b Henry Hamilton, 2nd lieut.
 d William Moulton, sergeant.
 d William McGhie, sergeant.
 William Haws, sergeant.
 b George A. Wilson, sergeant.
 d Jonathan Clegg, drum-major.
 a James Shanks, fife-major.
 d James Duke, drum-major's adj.
 d Jonathan M. Duke, drummer.
 a Jesse Bond, private.
 d Thomas Hundley, private.
 b Willard Carroll, private.
 b Jacob Baum, private.
 b William Chatwin, private.
 Edward Payne, private.
 Alfred Ward, private.
 Geo. T. Giles, private.
 d Thomas Rasband, private.
 James Cole, private.
 a Thomas Hicken, private.
 b David Stephenson, private.
 d William Richardson, private.
 a John Ritchie, private.
 d W. Watson, Jr., private.
 a ... private.
 d Henry Nelson, private.
 a Noah Mayoh, private.

Joseph McCorrel's company—cavalry.

d Joseph McCorrel, captain.
 d Edwin R. Bronson, 1st lieut.
 d Jesse McCorrel, 2nd lieut.
 Ephraim Van Wagener, sergeant.
 a James B. Hamilton, private.
 a William Bagley, private.
 Jeremiah Roby, private.
 d Henry Coleman, private.
 b Richard Sherlock, private.
 a James Jackson, private.
 b William Gibson, private.
 d Charles Gurney, private.
 a Emanuel Richman, private.
 Ezekiel Bates, private.

This company was mustered into service at Heber City, May 1st, 1865, by Major John Witt and were in active service scouting in the mountains.

Staff officers commanding Wasatch County militia:

a John W. Witt, major.
 a John Hamilton, major.
 a Sidney Epperson, major.
 a John Crook, bat'n adjt.
 b Charles H. Wilcken, bat'n adjt.
 d David Van Wagonen, bat'n adjt.

JOS. W. MUSSER.

For over four years acted as Stake clerk in the Wasatch Stake, coming here from Salt Lake City, the place of his birth. He was born March 8, 1872, his parents being A. Milton Musser and Mary White. From early

son army troubles, being captain of fifty men under Major McArthur, also gited in the Walker and Blackhawk the "Mintage" and shared in the privathat rest is rustling and is in love, laughter and work in this

 At the age of 21 he was united marriage with Miss Rose Borgquist.
 Shortly after this he performed a mission to the Southern States, and has many important positions in the church. Since moving to Wasatch county his special work in ecclesi-

 cal labor has been upon the rec-
 of the Wards and Stake. He is to have performed this work with
 signal success.

In temporal matters he took quite an active part. Was assistant manager
 in the Wasatch Development Company. Acted as President of the Wave Publishing Co. Cashier of the Bank of Heber City, and Secretary in
 the Timpanogas Irrigation Co.

At the organization of Uintah Stake,
 he was called to assist in the work there and has become interested in land there. In politics he is an ardent republican, believing, however, that the republican party is not wholly good nor its opponents wholly bad.

ument on the ... at the head of Provo River.

...uff's hollow, where ... belonging to the ... at night and were ... on the surrounding hills during days. Scouts were out looking ... signs, and guards and sentinels were posted on the hills who ... constant watch day and night ... ear of a surprise by the redskins, ... otherwise might occur at any ... ent. Thus by the strictest vigi- ... they passed through this try- ... period with comparatively little

... next year, 1867, Tabby came to ... with quite a large company of ... to both a peace pow-wow. He ... wanted to smoke the pipe of ... with his white brothers and be ... is. It soon developed, however, ... the Indians were really on a ... expedition. They wanted ... meat, blankets and other ... dear to the heart, or ... appetite, of the dusky braves. ... considerable parley they were ... a feast in the bowery at Heber. ... were given 80 head of cattle ... take them along so they could ... better as they were told. This ... of peace was kept by Tabby ... o more trouble was given the ... by his band so far as can be ...

... he risk of ... considered te- ... here ... give a list of the ... of those who served in each ... ay of the ... of this county ... the Black Hawk war. Those ... e still living in this county are ... ted by the letter "a," those ... ve moved away, by the letter ... d those who have died, by the ... d."

... m Wall's company—cavalry: ... illiam Wall, captain. ... illiam McDonald, first liet. ... seph McDonald, second liet. ... trick Carrol, second liet. ... drew Ross, second liet. ... njamin Norris, second liet. ... hn McDonald, sergeant. ... ilip Smith, sergeant. ... hard Jones, sergeant. ... hard Forman, sergeant. ... orge Clyde, bugler. ... cob Harris, private. ... hram Smith, private. ... n. Bethers, private. ... m Acomb, private. ... in J. Cummings, private. ... orge Fraughton, private. ... a. Gallagher, private. ... seph Thomas, private. ... nley Davis, private. ... bert Broadhead, private. ... mphus Munlock, private. ... d. ...

- d Isaac Cummings, private.
- b Joseph Parker, private.
- a George Bunnell, private.
- a Henry Ohwiler, private.
- a Isaac Baum, private.
- d Richard Sessions, private.
- b Darwin Walton, private.
- a Thomas Nicol, private.
- d Lybeous T. Coon, private.
- b Murray Harvey, private.
- d Solomon Sessions, private.
- b Elijah Thomas, private.
- a Alfred Shelton, private.
- d William Cole, private.
- a James Carillo, private.

This company had several skirmishes with the Indians; at one time killed two Indians and wounded several.

John M. Murdock's company—infantry:

- a John M. Murdock, captain.
- a John Muir, 1st lieutenant.
- d John Jordan, 2nd lieutenant.
- b William Davidson, 2nd lieutenant.
- b Archibald Scoggie, 2nd lieutenant.
- d James McNaughtan, sergeant.
- d Robert Cunningham, sergeant.
- d Reuben Allred, sergeant.
- a Joseph Moulton, drummer.
- d Joseph Taylor, color bearer.
- d William Clegg, fifer.
- b Freeman Manning, private.
- b Thomas Hudson, private.
- d William Aird, private.
- d Stephen Bond, private.
- d Robert Baird, private.
- d James Given, private.
- d William Thompson, private.
- b William Clegg, private.
- b David Adams, private.
- a Mark Jeffs, private.
- d William McMillan, private.
- b James Adams, private.
- a George Muir, private.
- d John Turner, private.
- b Joseph Batson, private.
- a William Lindsay, private.
- b Peter Cunningham, private.
- b William Oaks, private.
- a John J. Jordan, private.
- a Lewis Mechem, private.
- b Edward Gurr, private.
- William Johnson, private.
- a Isaac O. Wall, private.
- a Francis Kirby, Jr., private.
- John Mechem, private.
- d John G. Timothy, private.
- William Adams, private.
- Arthur Kirk, private.
- James Allred, private.
- a William M. Ryan, private.
- Peter Gurr, private.

This company was mustered into service at Heber City, May 1, 1866, and assigned to duty in the northern mountain region.

- Simon S. Hickenbottom, private.
- Thompson Ritter, private.
- James Gurr, Sr., private.
- William R. Buhler, private.
- Marino McOiney, private.
- Adam Thompson, private.
- b John Ross, private.
- d Louis Gerber, private.
- David F. Hamilton, private.
- b Thomas Thornton, private.
- Jacob Duell, private.
- a Attewall, Wootton, private.
- b Edward Condor, private.
- d Lucien H. Jacobs, private.
- d William Coleman, private.
- Joshua Weed, private.
- d George Bonner, private.
- b Harvey Meeks, private.
- b John Davis, private.
- d Enoch Davis, private.
- b John Robertson, private.
- b Henry Love, private.
- a Conrad Abegglen, private.
- a Jacob Buhler, private.
- Jacob Burgner, private.
- a Casper Sulser, private.
- a John Sulser, private.

- d Hyrum Shelton, private.
- b Herbert Hosser, private.
- b Joseph Allen, private.
- b Charles Allen, private.
- Edwin Wardle, private.
- a James Provost, private.
- a Mark Smith, private.
- a David Provost, private.
- James W. Fisher, private.
- John Moser, private.
- b David Wood, private.
- Andrew Hamilton, private.
- d Jeremiah Roby, Jr., private.
- Jacob Ertzinger, private.
- James Davis, private.
- Christian Abegglen, private.
- a Ulrich Abegglen, private.

This company was assigned to duty in the eastern mountains and passes.

Thomas Todd's company—infantry.

- a Thomas Todd, captain.
- b Charles N. Carroll, 1st lieutenant.
- d Frederick Giles, 2nd lieutenant.
- d Henry McMullin, 2nd lieutenant.
- a Dixon H. Greer, 2nd lieutenant.
- b Henry Hamilton, 2nd lieutenant.
- d William Moulton, sergeant.
- d William McGhie, sergeant.
- William Haws, sergeant.
- b George A. Wilson, sergeant.
- d Jonathan Clegg, drum-major.
- a James Shanks, fife-major.
- d James Duke, drum-major's adjutant.
- d Jonathan M. Duke, drummer.
- a Jesse Bond, private.
- d Thomas Hundley, private.
- b Willard Carroll, private.
- b Jacob Baum, private.
- b William Chatwin, private.
- Edward Payne, private.
- Alfred Ward, private.
- Geo. T. Giles, private.
- d Thomas Rasband, private.
- James Cole, private.
- a Thomas Hicken, private.
- b David Stephenson, private.
- d William Richardson, private.
- a John Ritchie, private.
- d William Watson, Jr., private.
- a Samuel McFee, private.
- d Henry Nelson, private.
- a Noah Mayoh, private.
- James Nash, private.
- Frank Wilson, private.
- d Jasper Boren, private.
- Edward Stocks, private.
- James Gurr, private.
- Hiram Bigelow, private.
- Ephraim Hanks, private.
- a Francis Kirby, private.
- a George Brown, private.
- b Moroni Mechem, private.
- Reuben Gurr, private.
- John Andrews, private.
- b J. R. Miller, private.
- b Lewis Polson, private.

- a James Jackson, private.
- b William Gibson, private.
- d Chauncey, private.
- a Ema. Richman, private.
- Ezekiel Bates, private.

This company was mustered into service at Heber City, May 1866, by Major John Witt and were given active service scouting in the mountains.

Staff officers commanding Vernal County militia:

- a John W. Witt, major.
- a John Hamilton, major.
- a Sidney Epperson, major.
- a John Crook, bat'n adjutant.
- b Charles H. Wilcken, bat'n adjutant.
- d David Van Wagoner, bat'n adjutant.

JOS. W. MUSSER.

For over four years acted as clerk in the Wasatch Stake, here from Salt Lake City, the place of his birth. He was born March 1872, his parents being A. Musser and Mary White. From the army he returned with fifty men under Major McArthur, and the Walker and Blair the "Mintage" shared in the that rest is rust and is in love, laughter and work.

At the age of 21 he was united in marriage with Miss Rose B. Shortly after this he performed mission to the Southern States has many important positions in church. Since moving to Vernal county his special work in ecclesiastical labor has been upon the record of the Wards and Stake. He has to have performed this work with signal success.

In temporal matters he took an active part. Was assistant manager in the Wasatch Development Company. Acted as President of Wave Publishing Co. Cashier of Bank of Heber City, and Secretary of the Timpanogas Irrigation Co.

At the organization of Uintah Stake he was called to assist in the same and has become interested in the land there. In politics he is an ardent republican, believing, however, that the republican party is not wholly good nor its opponents wholly bad. He was elected County Commissioner for the two year term in Wasatch county at the election held in November last.

His labors in the county have made him some friends and possibly some enemies, but he has continued to do his duty as he saw fit.

EDWARD BUYS.

Edward Buys has been a resident of Wasatch county for thirty years. He moved here from Boston, arriving at Charleston ent on Mt. Baldy, at the head of Provo River.

protection against the In-
A large corral was built as called Chuff's hollow, where the cattle belonging to the were kept at night and were on the surrounding hills during ys. Scouts were out looking ian signs, and guards and sen-were posted on the hills who onstant watch day and night of a surprise by the redskins, otherwise might occur at any
t. Thus by the strictest vig-they passed through this try-iod with comparatively little next year, 1867, Tabby came to with quite a large company of

to hold a peace pow-wow. He wanted to smoke the pipe of
with his white brothers and be-
It soon developed, however,
the Indians were really on a expedition. They wanted
meat, blankets and other
dear to the heart, or appetite, of the dusky braves.
considerable parley they were
a feast in the bowery at Heber.
were given 50 head of cattle
like them long so they could etter" as they were told. This of peace was kept by Tabby more trade was given the
by his barter so far as can be the risk of being considered te-we herew give a list of the

of those served in each ty of the area of this county
the Black Hawk war. Those e still living in this county are ted by the letter "a," those ve moved away, by the letter l those who have died, by the d."

in Wall's company—cavalry:
William Wall, captain.
William McDonald, first lieut.
Joseph McDonald, second lieut.
Strick Carroll, second lieut.
Andrew Ross, second lieut.
Benjamin Norris, second lieut.
John McDonall, sergeant.
Philip Smith, sergeant.
Richard Jones, sergeant.
Richard Forman, sergeant.
George Clyde, bugler.
Cob Harris, private.
Ephraim Smith, private.
M. Bethers, private.
John Acomb, private.
John J. Cummings, private.
George Fraughton, private.
M. Gallagher, private.
Joseph Thomas, private.
Anley Davis, private.
Albert Broadhead, private.
Symphus Murdock, private.
George Giles, private.
William Nuttal, private.
William Giles, private.
Ira N. Jacob, private.
Daniel A. Sessions, private.
George Carlile, private.
William M. G., private.
Ivin Henry, private.
George T. Giles, private.
William Cummings, private.
William Averett, private.
Albert McMullin, private.
John Harvey, Jr., private.
John Harvey, private.

d Isaac Cummings, private.
assistance, Carter, private.
b Joseph Parker, private.
a George Bunnell, private.
a Henry Ohwiler, private.
a Isaac Baum, private.
d Richard Sessions, private.
b Darwin Walton, private.
a Thomas Nicol, private.
d Lybeous T. Coon, private.
b Murray Harvey, private.
d Solomon Sessions, private.
b Elijah Thomas, private.
a Alfred Shelton, private.
d William Cole, private.
a James Carlile, private.

This company had several skirmishes with the Indians; at one time
killed two Indians and wounded several.

John M. Murdock's company—infantry:

a John M. Murdock, captain.
a John Muir, 1st lieutenant.
d John Jordan, 2nd lieutenant.
b William Davidson, 2nd lieut.
b Archibald Scoggie, 2nd lieut.
d James McNaughtan, sergeant.
d Robert Cunningham, sergeant.
d Reuben Allred, sergeant.
a Joseph Moulton, drummer.
d Joseph Taylor, color bearer.
d William Clegg, fifer.
b Freeman Manning, private.
b Thomas Hudson, private.
d William Aird, private.
d Stephen Bond, private.
d Robert Baird, private.
d James Given, private.
d William Thompson, private.
b William Clegg, private.
b David Adams, private.
a Mark Jeffs, private.
d William McMillan, private.
b James Adams, private.
a George Muir, private.
d John Turner, private.
b Joseph Batson, private.
a William Lindsay, private.
b Peter Cunningham, private.
b William Oaks, private.
a John J. Jordan, private.
a Lewis Mecham, private.
b Edward Gurr, private.
William Johnson, private.
a Isaac O. Wall, private.
a Francis Kirby, Jr., private.
John Mecham, private.
d John G. Timothy, private.
William Adams, private.
Arthur Kirk, private.
James Allred, private.
a William M. Ryan, private.
Peter Gurr, private.

This company was mustered into
service at Heber City, May 1, 1866,
and assigned to duty in the northern mountain range where they performed active service for two months.

Ira N. Jacob's company—infantry.

Sidney Epperson, major.
b Ira N. Jacob, captain.
d William W. Wilson, 1st lieut.
d Robert Cunningham, 2nd lieut.
a George Dunning, 2nd lieut.
b William McGhie, 2nd lieut.
d Peter Abplanalp, 2nd lieut.
James Low, 2nd lieut.
d Samuel Thompson, 2nd lieut.
b John O'Neil, sergeant.
b John Gerber, sergeant.

d George Bonner, private.
b Harvey Meeks, private.
b John Davis, private.
d Enoch Davis, private.
b John Robertson, private.
b Henry Love, private.
a Conrad Abegglen, private.
a Jacob Buhler, private.
Jacob Burgner, private.
a Casper Sulser, private.
a John Sulser, private.
d Martin Nageli, private.
d Hyrum Shelton, private.
d Herbert Hosser, private.
b Joseph Allen, private.
b Charles Allen, private.
Edwin Wardle, private.
a James Provost, private.
a Mark Smith, private.
a David Provost, private.
James W. Fisher, private.
John Moser, private.
b David Wood, private.
Andrew Hamilton, private.
d Jeremiah Roby, Jr., private.
Jacob Ertzinger, private.
James Davis, private.
Christian Abegglen, private.
a Ulrich Abegglen, private.

This company was assigned to duty
in the eastern mountains and passes.

Thomas Todd's company—infantry.

a Thomas Todd, captain.
b Charles N. Carroll, 1st lieut.
d Frederick Giles, 2nd lieut.
d Henry McMullin, 2nd lieut.
a Dixon H. Greer, 2nd lieut.
b Henry Hamilton, 2nd lieut.
d William Moulton, sergeant.
d William McGhie, sergeant.
William Haws, sergeant.
b George A. Wilson, sergeant.
d Jonathan Clegg, drum-major.
a James Shanks, fife-major.
d James Duke, drum-major's adj.
d Jonathan M. Duke, drummer.
a Jesse Bond, private.
d Thomas Hundley, private.
b Willard Carroll, private.
b Jacob Baum, private.
b William Chatwin, private.
Edward Payne, private.
Alfred Ward, private.
Geo. T. Giles, private.
d Thomas Rasband, private.
James Cole, private.
a Thomas Hicken, private.
b David Stephenson, private.
d William Richardson, private.
a John Ritchie, private.
d William Watson, Jr., private.
a Samuel McFee, private.
d Henry Nelson, private.
a Noah Mayoh, private.
James Nash, private.
Frank Wilson, private.
d Jasper Boren, private.
Edward Stocks, private.
James Gurr, private.
Hiram Bigelow, private.
Ephraim Hanks, private.
a Francis Kirby, private.
a George Brown, private.
b Moroni Mecham, private.
Reuben Gurr, private.
John Andrews, private.
b J. R. Miller, private.
b Lewis Poirée, private.
John Davis, private.
Louis Winelob, private.
d Thomas Smith, private.
Frank Wilson, private.
Henry Luke, Indian interpreter.

This company was mustered into service in Wasatch county for the protection of the Indians in the valley and surrounding country.

John Gallagher's company—infantry.

d John Gallagher, captain.
d William P. Reynolds, 1st lieut.
a John Lee, 2nd lieut.
a Henry Chatwin, 2nd lieut.
d George Thompson, 2nd lieut.
d Samuel Rooker, sergeant.

b Charles H. Wilcken, bat n

d David Van Wagonen, bat n

N. MUSSER.

For over four years acted as clerk in the Wasatch Stake, c here from Salt Lake City, the of his birth. He was born Ma 1872, his parents being A.
Musser and Mary White. From son army troops, being captu fifty men under Major McArthur gifted in the Walker and Black the "Mintagold shared in the
that rest is rust and
is in love, laughter and work in At the age of 21 he was uni-marriage with Miss Rose Borg Shortly after this he perform mission to the Southern States has many important positions in church. Since moving to W county his special work in eccles-cal labor has been upon the re-

of the Wards and Stake. He is to have performed this work signal success.

In temporal matters he took an active part. Was assistant main the Wasatch Development pany. Acted as President of Wave Publishing Co. Cashier of Bank of Heber City, and Secreta-
the Timpanogas Irrigation Co.
At the organization of Uintah S he was called to assist in the there and has become intereste land there. In politics he is a dent republican, believing, how-that the republican party is not ly good nor its opponents wholly He was elected County Commissfor the two year term in Wa-county at the election held in No-ber last.

His labors in the county
made him some friends and pos-some enemies, but he has contintried to do his duty as he saw

EDWARD BUYS.

Edward Buys has been a reside Wasatch county for thirty-s years. He moved here from Bo-ful, Utah, arriving at Charleston tober 10, 1869, and took charge o
Joseph E. Taylor farm at that p This, however, was not his first quitting this valley, as he G. of O. of that name, pa-
c. in 1860 with a large teams, loaded with flour on way to Denver, Colo., and v camping at the lower end of the ley, lost about forty head of oxen, which so far as he knows, never heard after.

His parents, Hyrum D. and beth Huntington Buys, joined Mormon church at Albany, N. Y. an early date in the history of church and joined the main bo

...the hollow, where
...belonging to the
...light and were
...sing bills during
...Scouts were out looking
...signs, and guards and sent
...were posted on the hills, who
...constant watch of the Indians
...night could be seen at any
...Thus by the strictest vigil
...they passed through this try-
...od with comparatively little ext year, 1867, Tabby came to

with quite a large company of
to hold a peace pow wow. He wanted to smoke the pipe of
with his white brothers and be
It soon developed, however, Indians were really on a expedition. They wanted eat, blankets and other
dear to the heart, or ppetite, of the dusky braves.
nsiderable parley they were least in the bowery at Heber. are given so head of cattle e them long so they could fer as they were told. This f peace was kept by Tabby more trouble was given the y his bay so far as can be risk of being considered tee herew give a list of the f those who served in each of the militia of this county

the Black Hawk war. Those still living in this county are d by the letter "a," those e moved away, by the letter those who have died, by the

- Wall's company—cavalry:
iam Wall, captain.
iam McDonald, first lieut.
ph McDonald, second lieut.
ick Carroll, second lieut.
rew Ross, second lieut.
amin Norris, second lieut.
McDonall, sergeant.
p Smith, sergeant.
ard Jones, sergeant.
ard Forman, sergeant.
ge Clyde, bugler.
e Harris, private.
aim Smith, private.
Bethers, private.
Acomb, private.
J. Cummings, private.
se Fraughton, private.
Gallagher, private.
h Thomas, private.
ey Davis, private.
t Broadhead, private.
hus Murdock, private.
ge Giles, private.
m Nuttal, private.
m Giles, private.
i Oaks, private.
l A. Sessions, private.
e Carlile, private.
m M. Gies, private.
Henry, private.
e T. Giles, private.
m Cummings, private.
m Averatt, private.
McMullin, private.
Harvey, Jr., private.
Harvey, private.

- a Parker, private.
a George Bul, private.
a Henry Ohwmer, private.
a Isaac Baum, private.
d Richard Sessions, private.
b David Walton, private.
a Thomas Nicol, private.
d Solomon Sessions, private.
b Elijah Thomas, private.
a Alfred Shelton, private.
d William Cole, private.
a James Carlile, private.

This company had several skirmishes with the Indians; at one time killed two Indians and wounded several.

John M. Murdock's company—infantry:

- a John M. Murdock, captain.
a John Muir, 1st lieutenant.
d John Jordan, 2nd lieutenant.
b William Davidson, 2nd lieut.
b Archibald Scoggie, 2nd lieut.
d James McNaughtan, sergeant.
d Robert Cunningham, sergeant.
d Reuben Allred, sergeant.
a Joseph Moulton, drummer.
d Joseph Taylor, color bearer.
d William Clegg, fife.
b Ffeman Manning, private.
b Thomas Hudson, private.
d William Aird, private.
d Stephen Bond, private.
d Robert Baird, private.
d James Given, private.
d William Thompson, private.
b William Clegg, private.
d David Adams, private.
a Mark Jeffs, private.
d William McMillan, private.
b James Adams, private.
a George Muir, private.
d John Turner, private.
b Joseph Batson, private.
a William Lindsay, private.
b Peter Cunningham, private.
b William Oaks, private.
a John J. Jordan, private.
a Lewis Mecham, private.
b Edward Gurr, private.
William Johnson, private.
a Isaac O. Wall, private.
a Francis Kirby, Jr., private.
John Mecham, private.
d John G. Timothy, private.
William Adams, private.
Arthur Kirk, private.
James Allred, private.
a William M. Ryan, private.
Peter Gurr, private.

This company was mustered into service at Heber City, May 1, 1866, and assigned to duty in the northern mountain range where they performed active service for two months.

- Ira N. Jacob's company—infantry.
Sidney Epperson, major.
b Ira N. Jacob, captain.
d William W. Wilson, 1st lieut.
d Robert Cunningham, 2nd lieut.
d George Dabbling, 2nd lieut.
b William McGhie, 2nd lieut.
d Peter Abplanalp, 2nd lieut.
James Low, 2nd lieut.
d Samuel Thompson, 2nd lieut.
b John O'Neil, sergeant.
b John T. Gerber, sergeant.

- d Hyrum Shelton, private.
b Herbert Hosser, private.
b Joseph Allen, private.
b Charles Allen, private.
Edwin Wardle, private.
a James Provost, private.
a Mark Smith, private.
d David Peacock, private.
John Moser, private.
b David Wood, private.
Andrew Hamilton, private.
d Jeremiah Roby, Jr., private.
Jacob Ertzinger, private.
James Davis, private.
Christian Abegglen, private.
a Ulrich Abegglen, private.
This company was assigned to duty in the eastern mountains and passes.

Thomas Todd's company—infantry.

- a Thomas Todd, captain.
b Charles N. Carroll, 1st lieut.
d Frederick Giles, 2nd lieut.
d Henry McMullin, 2nd lieut.
a Dixon H. Greer, 2nd lieut.
b Henry Hamilton, 2nd lieut.
d William Moulton, sergeant.
d William McGhie, sergeant.
William Haws, sergeant.
b George A. Wilson, sergeant.
d Jonathan Clegg, drum-major.
a James Shanks, fife-major.
d James Duke, drum-major's adj.
d Jonathan M. Duke, drummer.
a Jesse Bond, private.
d Thomas Hundley, private.
b Willard Carroll, private.
b Jacob Baum, private.
b William Chatwin, private.
Edward Payne, private.
Alfred Ward, private.
Geo. T. Giles, private.
d Thomas Rasband, private.
James Cole, private.
a Thomas Hicken, private.
b David Stephenson, private.
d William Richardson, private.
a John Ritchie, private.
d William Watson, Jr., private.
a Samuel McFee, private.
d Henry Nelson, private.
a Noah Mayoh, private.
James Nash, private.
Frank Wilson, private.
d Jasper Boren, private.
Edward Stocks, private.
James Gurr, private.
Hiram Bigelow, private.
Ephraim Hanks, private.
a Francis Kirby, private.
a George Brown, private.
b Moroni Mecham, private.
Reuben Gurr, private.
John Andrews, private.
b J. R. Miller, private.
b Lewis Poiree, private.
John Davis, private.
Louis Winclob, private.
d Thomas Smith, private.
Frank Wilson, private.
Henry Luke, Indian interpreter.

This company was mustered into service in Wasatch county for the protection of the inhabitants in Rhoades' valley and surrounding country.

John Gallagher's company—infantry.

- d John Gallagher, captain.
d William P. Reynolds, 1st lieut.
a John Lee, 2nd lieut.
a Henry Chatwin, 2nd lieut.
d George Thompson, 2nd lieut.
d Samuel Rooker, sergeant.
d Robert McKnight, sergeant.
Cornelius White, 2nd lieut.
d James Watson, private.
David Barney, private.
d William Giles, private.
d Thomas Moulton, private.
d John Cummings, private.
d William Thompson, private.
d Richard Smith, private.
George Noakes, private.
Elshua Jones, private.
Anthony Brown, private.

gift
the "Minta" that rest i
and work
is in love, laughter and work
At the age of 21 he was united marriage with Miss Rose Borgo Shortly after this he performed wednesday in the Southern States has many important positions in church. Since moving to Wa

county his special work in ecclesi-
cal labor has been upon the rec-
of the Wards and Stake. He is
to have performed this work with
signal success.

In temporal matters he took quite
an active part. Was assistant manager
in the Wasatch Development Company. Acted as President of the Wave Publishing Co. Cashier of the Bank of Heber City, and Secretary of the Timpanogas Irrigation Co.

At the organization of Uintah Sta-
he was called to assist in the work there and has become interested land there. In politics he is an indent republican, believing, however, that the republican party is not wholly
ly good nor its opponents wholly bad.
He was elected County Commissioner for the two year term in Wasatch county at the election held in November last.

His labors in the county have made him some friends and possibly some enemies, but he has continually tried to do his duty as he saw it.

EDWARD BUYS.

Edward Buys has been a resident of Wasatch county for thirty-seven years. He moved here from Bountiful, Utah, arriving at Charleston, O-tober 10, 1869, and took charge of the Joseph E. Taylor farm at that place.
This, however, was not his first aquaintance with the valley, as he announced that name, passed the name in 1860 with a large train of oxen, loaded with flour on their way to Denver, Colo., and while camping at the lower end of the valley, lost about forty head of their oxen, which so far as he knows, were never heard after.

His parents, Hyrum D. and Elizabeth Huntington Buys, joined the Mormon church at Albany, N. Y., at an early date in the history of the church and joined the main body of saints at Nauvoo, about the year 1840.

He was born at La Harp, Hancock county, Ill., October 22, 1841, and came with his parents to Utah, arriving at Bountiful September 15, 1850.
His father died five years later leaving his mother with a large family of children, Edward being the oldest son.

Mr. Buys has been a prominent figure in this county on account of his having taken charge of threshing ma-

...the Indians. George...
 ...the foot a...
 ...in the leg...
 ...not shot by In...
 ...of their own party...
 ...for Indians. Wm...
 ...ry call at the...
 ...passing through...
 ...let a red streak...
 ...aking...
 ...was done to se...
 ...with food the bet...
 ...marauding expe...
 ...ce offering was...
 ...sting of the same...
 ...nd met with about

the company who
 e expedition, were:
 ain; Jos. McDonald,
 John Cummings,
 B. Sessions, Joseph
 Jakes, George Bon-
 k Wm. Forman, rick Carroll, Wm.
 lor, Alma Hunting-
 enon, Ed. Brunson,
 ates, E. Richman,
 n Acomb, Nephi

lition was made up officers of the Wa-
 a, hoping, we sup-
 ore salutary effect
 the poor, deluded
 avoy of mere "com-
 they were: John Charles wilkins,
 Wall, captain; Wm.
 ; Joseph McCarrel,
 er, captain; Ira N.
 nes Hamilton, cap-
 k, Geo. Giles, Wm.
 Thomas, Geo. T.
 , Albert McMullin,
 James Alred, Rich-
 Hles, Jr., privates,
 A. Thompson, Mo-
 mes Shanks, teamsettlers came to ummer of 1866 for

- William Wall's company—cavalry:
- d William Wall, captain.
 - a William McDonald, first liet.
 - a Joseph McDonald, second liet.
 - d Patrick Carroll, second liet.
 - b Andrew Ross, second liet.
 - a Benjamin Norris, second liet.
 - a John McDonald, sergeant.
 - a Philip Smith, sergeant.
 - d Richard Jones, sergeant.
 - a Richard Forman, sergeant.
 - d George Clyde, bugler.
 - b Jacob Harris, private.
 - d Ephraim Smith, private.
 - d Wm. Bethers, private.
 - b John Acomb, private.
 - a John J. Cummings, private.
 - d George Fraughton, private.
 - d Wm. Gallagher, private.
 - d Joseph Thomas, private.
 - d Stanley Davis, private.
 - a Robert Broadhead, private.
 - a Nymphus Murdock, private.
 - d George Giles, private.
 - d William Nuttall, private.
 - d William Giles, private.
 - b Hiram Oaks, private.
 - d Daniel A. Sessions, private.
 - a George Carlile, private.
 - d William M. Giles, private.
 - d Calvin Henry, private.
 - a George T. Giles, private.
 - b William Cummings, private.
 - a William Averett, private.
 - b Albert McMullin, private.
 - b John Harvey, Jr., private.
 - d John Harvey, private.

- d Stephen Bond, private.
 - d Robert Baird, private.
 - d James Given, private.
 - d William Thompson, private.
 - b William Clegg, private.
 - b David Adams, private.
 - a Mark Jeffs, private.
 - d William McMillan, private.
 - b James Adams, private.
 - a George Muir, private.
 - d John Turner, private.
 - b Joseph Batson, private.
 - a William Lindsay, private.
 - b Peter Cunningham, private.
 - b William Oaks, private.
 - a John J. Jordan, private.
 - a Lewis Mecham, private.
 - b Edward Gurr, private.
 - William Johnson, private.
 - a Isaac O. Wall, private.
 - a Francis Kirby, Jr., private.
 - John Mecham, private.
 - d John G. Timothy, private.
 - William Adams, private.
 - Arthur Kirk, private.
 - James Allred, private.
 - a William M. Ryan, private.
 - Peter Gurr, private.
- This company was mustered into service at Heber City, May 1, 1866, and assigned to duty in the northern mountain range where they performed active service for two months.
- Ira N. Jacob's company—infantry.
- Sidney Epperson, major.
 - b Ira N. Jacob, captain.
 - d William W. Wilson, 1st lieutenant.
 - d Robert Cunningham, 2nd lieutenant.
 - d George Dabbling, 2nd lieutenant.
 - b William McGhie, 2nd lieutenant.
 - d Peter Abplanalp, 2nd lieutenant.
 - James Low, 2nd lieutenant.
 - d Samuel Thompson, 2nd lieutenant.
 - b John O'Neil, sergeant.
 - b John T. Gerber, sergeant.

- b Jacob, private.
 - b William Chatwin, private.
 - Edward Payne, private.
 - Alfred Ward, private.
 - Geo. T. Giles, private.
 - d Thomas Rasband, private.
 - James Cole, private.
 - a Thomas Hicken, private.
 - b David Stephenson, private.
 - d William Richardson, private.
 - a John Ritchie, private.
 - d William Watson, Jr., private.
 - a Samuel McFee, private.
 - d Henry Nelson, private.
 - a Noah Mayoh, private.
 - James Nash, private.
 - Frank Wilson, private.
 - d Jasper Boren, private.
 - Edward Stocks, private.
 - James Gurr, private.
 - Hiram Bigelow, private.
 - Ephraim Hanks, private.
 - a Francis Kirby, private.
 - a George Brown, private.
 - b Moroni Mecham, private.
 - Reuben Gurr, private.
 - John Andrews, private.
 - b J. R. Miller, private.
 - b Lewis Poiree, private.
 - John Davis, private.
 - Louis Winelob, private.
 - d Thomas Smith, private.
 - Frank Wilson, private.
 - Henry Luke, Indian interpreter.
- This company was mustered into service in Wasatch county for the protection of the inhabitants in Rhoades' valley and surrounding country.
- John Gallagher's company—infantry.
- d John Gallagher, captain.
 - d William P. Reynolds, 1st lieutenant.
 - a John Lee, 2nd lieutenant.
 - a Henry Chatwin, 2nd lieutenant.
 - d George Thompson, 2nd lieutenant.
 - d Samuel Rooker, sergeant.
 - d Robert McKnight, sergeant.
 - Cornelius White, 2nd lieutenant.
 - d James Watson, private.
 - David Barney, private.
 - d William Giles, private.
 - d Thomas Moulton, private.
 - d John Cummings, private.
 - d William Thompson, private.
 - d Richard Smith, private.
 - d George Noakes, private.
 - d Elishua Jones, private.
 - Anthony Brown, private.
 - d Daniel McMillan, private.
 - F. Kirby, private.
 - F. Manning, private.
 - James Reed, private.
 - James Taylor, private.
 - d Thomas B. Sessions, private.
 - Peter Backstrong, private.
 - d Thomas Giles, private.
 - d William Ryan, private.
 - George Daybell, private.
 - d John Crismon, private.

This company was mustered into service at Snake Creek, Wasatch county, and assigned to duty in the mountains in that vicinity.

the confluence of Duchesne and Strawberry River, on the former Uintah Indian Reservation.

and killed several July a part,
f fine horses from
during the night,
und dead the next stance outside the
the Indians were he animals, they nd fractious, and few days later 7
John Lee were re afterwards re-

and October a and cattle were gotten back and
rd of afterwards.
rs of this valley Indians. George
he foot and Nym-
the leg, but it is not shot by Inf their own party
or Indians. Wm.
lose call at the
passing through
int a red streak
was done to se-
dians. An exatah with cat-
ace offerings, Heber May 27,
the twelve days
thing except to
th food the betparauding expe-
ce offering was ag of the same met with about

e company who xpedition, were:
; Jos. McDonald,
ohn Cummings, Sessions, Joseph
es, George Bon-
Wm. Forman,
k Carroll, Wm.
Alma Hunting-
on, Ed. Brunson, es, E. Richman, Acornb, Nephi

on was made up
ers of the Wa-
hoping, we sup-salutary effect
e poor, deluded
y of mere "com-
were: John arles Wilkins,
l, captain; Wm.
Joseph McCarrel,
captain; Ira N.
Hamilton, cap-
leo. Giles, Wm.
mas, Geo. T.
lbert McMullin,
es Alfred, Rich-
s, Jr., privates,
Thompson, Mo-
Shanks, team-

ttlers came to ner of 1866 for herded on the surrounding hills during the days. Scouts were out looking for Indian signs, and guards sen-tinnels were posted on the hills who kept constant watch day and night for fear of a surprise by the redskins, which otherwise might occur at any moment. Thus by the strictest vigilance they passed through this trying period with comparatively little loss.

The next year, 1867, Tabby came to Heber with quite a large company of braves to hold a peace pow-wow. He said he wanted to smoke the pipe of peace with his white brothers and be friends. It soon developed, however, that the Indians were really on a begging expedition. They wanted flour, meat, blankets and other things dear to the heart, or rather appetite, of the dusky braves.
After considerable parley they were given a feast in the bowery at Heber.
They were given 80 head of cattle "to make them strong so they could fight better" as they were told. This treaty of peace was kept by Tabby and no more trouble was given the whites by his band so far as can be learned.

At the risk of being considered tedious, we herewith give a list of the names of those who served in each company of the militia of this county during the Black Hawk war. Those who are still living in this county are designated by the letter "a," those who have moved away, by the letter
"b," and those who have died, by the letter "d."

William Wall's company—cavalry:

d William Wall, captain.
a William McDonald, first liet.
a Joseph McDonald, second liet.
d Patrick Carroll, second liet.
b Andrew Ross, second liet.
a Benjamin Norris, second liet.
a John McDonald, sergeant.
a Philip Smith, sergeant.
d Richard Jones, sergeant.
a Richard Forman, sergeant.
d George Clyde, bugler.
b Jacob Harris, private.
d Ephraim Smith, private.
d Wm. Bethers, private.
b John Acornb, private.
a John J. Cummings, private.
d George Fraughton, private.
d Wm. Gallagher, private.
d Joseph Thomas, private.
d Stanley Davis, private.
a Robert Broadhead, private.
a Nymphus Munklock, private.
d George Giles, private.
d William Nuttall, private.
d William Giles, private.
b Hiram Oaks, private.
d Daniel A. Sessions, private.
a George Carlile, private.
d William M. Giles, private.
d Calvin Henry, private.
a George T. Giles, private.
b William Cummings, private.
a William Averett, private.
b Albert McMullin, private.
b John Harvey, Jr., private.
d John Harvey, private.

a Isaac Baum, private.
d Richard Sessions, private.
b Darwin Walton, private.
a Thomas Nicol, private.
d Lybeous T. Coon, private.
b Murray Harvey, private.
d Solomon Sessions, private.
b Elijah Thomas, private.
a Alfred Shelton, private.
d William Cole, private.
a James Carlile, private.

This company had several skirmishes with the Indians; at one time killed two Indians and wounded several.

John M. Murdock's company—infantry:

a John M. Murdock, captain.
a John Muir, 1st lieutenant.
d John Jordan, 2nd lieutenant.
b William Davidson, 2nd lieutenant.
b Archibald Scoggie, 2nd lieutenant.
d James McNaughtan, sergeant.
d Robert Cunningham, sergeant.
d Reuben Allred, sergeant.
a Joseph Moulton, drummer.
d Joseph Taylor, color bearer.
d William Clegg, fifer.
b Freeman Manning, private.
b Thomas Hudson, private.
d William Aird, private.
d Stephen Bond, private.
d Robert Baird, private.
d James Given, private.
d William Thompson, private.
b William Clegg, private.
b David Adams, private.
a Mark Jeffs, private.
d William McMillan, private.
b James Adams, private.
a George Muir, private.
d John Turner, private.
b Joseph Batson, private.
a William Lindsay, private.
b Peter Cunningham, private.
b William Oaks, private.
a John J. Jordan, private.
a Lewis Mecham, private.
b Edward Gurr, private.
William Johnson, private.
a Isaac O. Wall, private.
a Francis Kirby, Jr., private.
John Mecham, private.
d John G. Timothy, private.
William Adams, private.
Arthur Kirk, private.
James Allred, private.
a William M. Ryan, private.
Peter Gurr, private.

This company was mustered into service at Heber City, May 1, 1866, and assigned to duty in the northern mountain range where they performed active service for two months.

Ira N. Jacob's company—infantry.

Sidney Epperson, major.
b Ira N. Jacob, captain.
d William W. Wilson, 1st lieutenant.
d Robert Cunningham, 2nd lieutenant.
d George Dabbling, 2nd lieutenant.
b William McGhie, 2nd lieutenant.
d Peter Abplanalp, 2nd lieutenant.
James Low, 2nd lieutenant.
d Samuel Thompson, 2nd lieutenant.
b John O'Neil, sergeant.
b John T. Gerber, sergeant.

b Charles Allen, private.
Edwin Wardle, private.
a James Provost, private.
a Mark Smith, private.
a David Provost, private.
James W. Fisher, private.
John Moser, private.
b David Wood, private.
Andrew Hamilton, private.
d Jeremiah Roby, Jr., private.
Jacob Ertzinger, private.
James Davis, private.
Christian Abegglen, private.
a Ulrich Abegglen, private.
This company was assigned to duty in the eastern mountains and passes.

Thomas Todd's company—infantry.

a Thomas Todd, captain.
b Charles N. Carroll, 1st lieutenant.
d Frederick Giles, 2nd lieutenant.
d Henry McMullin, 2nd lieutenant.
a Dixon H. Greer, 2nd lieutenant.
b Henry Hamilton, 2nd lieutenant.
d William Moulton, sergeant.
d William McGhie, sergeant.
William Haws, sergeant.
b George A. Wilson, sergeant.
d Jonathan Clegg, drum-major.
a James Shanks, fife-major.
d James Duke, drum-major's adjutant.
d Jonathan M. Duke, drummer.
a Jesse Bond, private.
d Thomas Hundley, private.
b Willard Carroll, private.
b Jacob Baum, private.
b William Chatwin, private.
Edward Payne, private.
Alfred Ward, private.
Geo. T. Giles, private.
d Thomas Rasband, private.
James Cole, private.
a Thomas Hicken, private.
b David Stephenson, private.
d William Richardson, private.
a John Ritchie, private.
d William Watson, Jr., private.
a Samuel McFee, private.
d Henry Nelson, private.
a Noah Mayoh, private.
James Nash, private.
Frank Wilson, private.
d Jasper Boren, private.
Edward Stocks, private.
James Gurr, private.
Hiram Bigelow, private.
Ephraim Hanks, private.
a Francis Kirby, private.
a George Brown, private.
b Moroni Mecham, private.
Reuben Gurr, private.
John Andrews, private.
b J. R. Miller, private.
b Lewis Poiree, private.
John Davis, private.
Louis Winelob, private.
d Thomas Smith, private.
Frank Wilson, private.

Henry Luke, Indian interpreter.

This company was mustered into service in Wasatch county for the protection of the inhabitants in Rhoades' valley and surrounding country.

John Gallagher's company—infantry.

d John Gallagher, captain.
d William P. Reynolds, 1st lieutenant.
a John Lee, 2nd lieutenant.
a Henry Chatwin, 2nd lieutenant.
d George Thompson, 2nd lieutenant.
d Samuel Rooker, sergeant.
d Robert McKnight, sergeant.
Cornelius White, 2nd lieutenant.
d James Watson, private.
David Barney, private.
d William Giles, private.
d Thomas Moulton, private.
d John Cummings, private.
d William Thompson, private.
d Richard Smith, private.
d George Noakes, private.
d Elishua Jones, private.
Anthony Brown, private.
d Daniel McMillan, private.
F. Kirby, private.

for the In- million dollars in military service and supplies, besides the vast amount of the arble property destroyed and stolen by the reservation Indians. but gus all reservoir Stra- of this county, consisting of beef, flour, sugar, rice, coffee, etc., as re- ported to the commissary general, amounted to $7,417.90, and for use of horses, mules, wagons, hauling baggage, provisions, and forage with the Wasatch County militia, cavalry and infantry while employed in the suppression of Indian hostilities in Wasatch and Summit, and adjoining counties, in the year 1866, amounted to $5,760.

Besides this nearly every able-bodied man in the county was engaged in military service either as guards or scouts during the whole of the spring, summer and fall of 1866.

The first raid on the settlers of this valley was made about the middle of May of 1866. Seven cows belonging to Brad Sessions and two fine mares belonging to Freeman Manning were taken from Heber and a number of stock taken from Center Creek settlement. A posse under the leadership of Wm. McDonald followed the Indians the next day. The Indians drove the stock up Lake Creek and crossed the deep snow at the head of the canyon, while it was frozen, but a thaw setting in the next day made the snow so soft that it was impossible to get through and the chase was abandoned. None of this stock was ever recovered. Many other raids were made during the summer and fall and stock driven off. Thomas Hundley lost a yoke of oxen and a

| | | |
|--|--|---|
| captain: Geo. Bonner, captain, Ira N. Jacob, captain, James Hamilton, captain, N. C. Murdock, Geo. Giles, Wm. Gallagher, Joseph Thomas, Geo. T. Giles, Henry Lake, Albert McMullin, John Harvey, Jr., James Alfred, Richard Jones, Wm. Giles, Jr., privates, Emanuel Richman, A. Thompson, Mori Duke, and James Shanks, teamsters. | d William Giles, private. b William Oaks, private. d Daniel A. Sessions, private. a George Canfield, private. d William M. Giles, private. d Calvin Henry, private. a George T. Giles, private. b William Cummings, private. a William Averett, private. b Albert McMullin, private. b John Harvey, Jr., private. d John Harvey, private. | Ira N. Jacob's company, infantry. Sidney Epperson, major. b Ira N. Jacob, captain. d William W. Wilson, 1st lieutenant. d Robert Cunningham, 2nd lieutenant. d George Dabbling, 2nd lieutenant. b William McBride, 2nd lieutenant. d Peter Abplanalp, 2nd lieutenant. d James Low, 2nd lieutenant. d Samuel Thompson, 2nd lieutenant. b John O'Neil, sergeant. b John T. Gerber, sergeant. |
|--|--|---|

Theodore, at the confluence of Duchesne and Strawberry River, on the former Uintah Indian Reservation.

Frank Wilson, private. Henry Lake, Indian interpreter. This company was mustered into service in Wasatch county for the protection of the inhabitants in Rhoades' valley and surrounding country.

John Gallagher's company—infantry.
d John Gallagher, captain.
d William P. Reynolds, 1st lieutenant.
a John Lee, 2nd lieutenant.
a Henry Chatwin, 2nd lieutenant.
d George Thompson, 2nd lieutenant.
d Samuel Rooker, sergeant.
d Robert McKnight, sergeant.
d Cornelius White, 2nd lieutenant.
d James Watson, private.
d David Barney, private.
d William Giles, private.
d Thomas Moulton, private.
d John Cummings, private.
d William Thompson, private.
d Richard Smith, private.
d George Noakes, private.
d Elishua Jones, private.
d Anthony Brown, private.
d Daniel McMullan, private.
d F. Kirby, private.
d F. Manning, private.
d James Reed, private.
d James Taylor, private.
d Thomas B. Sessions, private.
d Peter Backstrom, private.
d Thomas Giles, private.
d William Ryan, private.
d George Daybell, private.
d John Crismon, private.
This company was mustered into service at Snake Creek, Wasatch county, and assigned to duty in the mountains in that vicinity.

Mr. Buys has been a prominent man in this county on account of having taken charge of threshing machines and saw mills and re- steam boilers and other machinery. He was a violinist in the early days and furnished the music for the dances and other amusements. He built the first house shingle roof in Charleston, and the prime mover in the organization of a school district at that place was the first homesteader on the creek and the settlement that afterwards made there was "Buysville" after him. He has been county surveyor several years, and is deputy sheriff of Wasatch county at the present rovo River.

Isaac Currie, private.

tance of Carter, private.
Joseph Parker, private.
George Bunnell, private.
Henry Ohwiler, private.
Isaac Baum, private.
Richard Sessions, private.
Darwin Walton, private.
Thomas Nicol, private.
Lybeous T. Coon, private.
Murray Harvey, private.
Solomon Sessions, private.
Elijah Thomas, private.
Alfred Shelton, private.
William Cole, private.
James Carlile, private.
This company had several skirmishes with the Indians; at one time two Indians and wounded sev-n M. Murdock's company—infantry.

John M. Murdock, captain.
John Muir, 1st lieutenant.
John Jordan, 2nd lieutenant.
William Davidson, 2nd lieutenant.
Archibald Scoggie, 2nd lieutenant.
James McNaughtan, sergeant.
Robert Cunningham, sergeant.
Reuben Allred, sergeant.
Joseph Moulton, drummer.
Joseph Taylor, color bearer.
William Clegg, lifer.
Freeman Manning, private.
Thomas Hudson, private.
William Aird, private.
Stephen Bond, private.
Robert Baird, private.
James Given, private.
William Thompson, private.
William Clegg, private.
David Adams, private.
Mark Jeffs, private.
William McMillan, private.
James Adams, private.
George Muir, private.
John Turner, private.
Joseph Batson, private.
William Lindsay, private.
Peter Cunningham, private.
William Oaks, private.
John J. Jordan, private.
Lewis Mecham, private.
Edward Gurr, private.
William Johnson, private.
Isaac O. Wall, private.
Francis Kirby, Jr., private.
John Mecham, private.
John G. Timothy, private.
William Adams, private.
Arthur Kirk, private.
James Allred, private.
William M. Ryan, private.
Peter Gurr, private.

This company was mustered into service at Heber City, May 1, 1866, assigned to duty in the northern main range where they performed service for two months.

N. Jacob's company—infantry.
Sidney Epperson, major.
N. Jacob, captain.
William W. Wilson, 1st lieutenant.
Robert Cunningham, 2nd lieutenant.
George Dabbling, 2nd lieutenant.
William McGhie, 2nd lieutenant.
Peter Abplanalp, 2nd lieutenant.
James Low, 2nd lieutenant.
Samuel Thompson, 2nd lieutenant.
John O'Neil, sergeant.
John T. Gerber, sergeant.

Henry Love, private.
a Conrad Abegglen, private.
a Jacob [unclear], private.
Jacob [unclear], private.
a Casper Sulser, private.
a John Sulser, private.
a [unclear] [unclear], private.

d [unclear] [unclear], on the river.
d Hyrum Shelton, private.
b Herbert Hosser, private.
b Joseph Allen, private.
b Charles Allen, private.
Edwin Wardle, private.
a James Provost, private.
a Mark Smith, private.
a David Provost, private.
James W. Fisher, private.
John Moser, private.
b David Wood, private.
Andrew Hamilton, private.
d Jeremiah Roby, Jr., private.
Jacob Ertzinger, private.
James Davis, private.
Christian Abegglen, private.
a Ulrich Abegglen, private.
This company was assigned to duty in the eastern mountains and passes.

Thomas Todd's company—infantry.

a Thomas Todd, captain.
b Charles N. Carroll, 1st lieutenant.
d Frederick Giles, 2nd lieutenant.
d Henry McMullin, 2nd lieutenant.
a Dixon H. Greer, 2nd lieutenant.
b Henry Hamilton, 2nd lieutenant.
d William Moulton, sergeant.
d William McGhie, sergeant.
William Haws, sergeant.
b George A. Wilson, sergeant.
d Jonathan Clegg, drum-major.
a James Shanks, fife-major.
d James Duke, drum-major's adjutant.
d Jonathan M. Duke, drummer.
a Jesse Bond, private.
d Thomas Hundley, private.
b Willard Carroll, private.
b Jacob Baum, private.
b William Chatwin, private.
Edward Payne, private.
Alfred Ward, private.
Geo. T. Giles, private.
d Thomas Rasband, private.
James Cole, private.
a Thomas Hicken, private.
b David Stephenson, private.
d William Richardson, private.
a John Ritchie, private.
d William Watson, Jr., private.
a Samuel McFee, private.
d Henry Nelson, private.
a Noah Mayoh, private.
James Nash, private.
Frank Wilson, private.
d Jasper Boren, private.
Edward Stocks, private.
James Gurr, private.
Hiram Bigelow, private.
Ephraim Hanks, private.
a Francis Kirby, private.
a George Brown, private.
b Moroni Mecham, private.
Reuben Gurr, private.
John Andrews, private.
b J. R. Miller, private.
b Lewis Poiree, private.
John Davis, private.
Louis Winelob, private.
d Thomas Smith, private.
Frank Wilson, private.
Henry Luke, Indian interpreter.

This company was mustered into service in Wasatch county for the protection of the inhabitants in Rhoades' valley and surrounding country.

John Gallagher's company—infantry.

d John Gallagher, captain.
d William P. Reynolds, 1st lieutenant.
a John Lee, 2nd lieutenant.
a Henry Chatwin, 2nd lieutenant.
d George Thompson, 2nd lieutenant.
d Samuel Rooker, sergeant.
d Robert McKnight, sergeant.
White, 2nd lieutenant.
d James Watson, [unclear].
David Barney, private.

For over [unclear] clerk in the Wasatch Stake, coming here from Salt Lake City, the place of his birth. He was born March 8, 1872, his parents being A. Milton Musser and Mary White. From early 1862. He went all through the Johnson army troubles, being captain of fifty men under Major McArthur, also gifted in the Walker and Blackhawk the "Mintagaid" shared in the privation that rest is rustly and [unclear] is in love, laughter and work in this

At the age of 21 he was united in marriage with Miss Rose Borgquist. Shortly after this he performed a mission to the Southern States, and has many important positions in the church. Since moving to Wasatch county his special work in ecclesiastical labor has been upon the record of the Wards and Stake. He is to have performed this work with signal success.

In temporal matters he took quite an active part. Was assistant manager in the Wasatch Development Company. Acted as President of the Wave Publishing Co. Cashier of the Bank of Heber City, and Secretary in the Timpanogas Irrigation Co.

At the organization of Uintah Stake, he was called to assist in the work there and has become interested in land there. In politics he is an ardent republican, believing, however, that the republican party is not wholly good nor its opponents wholly bad. He was elected County Commissioner for the two year term in Wasatch county at the election held in November last.

His labors in the county have made him some friends and possibly some enemies, but he has continually tried to do his duty as he saw it.

EDWARD BUYS.

Edward Buys has been a resident of Wasatch county for thirty-seven years. He moved here from Bountiful, Utah, arriving at Charleston, October 10, 1869, and took charge of the Joseph E. Taylor farm at that place. This, however, was not his first acquaintance with this valley, as he and George [unclear] that name, passed the winter of 1860 with a large train of oxen, loaded with flour on their way to Denver, Colo., and while camping at the lower end of the valley, lost about forty head of their oxen, which so far as he knows, were never heard after.

His parents, Hyrum D. and Elizabeth Huntington Buys, joined the Mormon church at Albany, N. Y., at an early date in the history of the church and joined the main body of saints at Nauvoo, about the year 1840.

He was born at La Harp, Hancock county, Ill., October 22, 1841, and Thomas Todd, captain.

 Charles N. Carr, 1st lieutenant.
 Frederick Giles, 2nd lieutenant.
 Henry McMullin, 2nd lieutenant.
 Dixon H. Greer, 2nd lieutenant.
 Henry Hamilton, 2nd lieutenant.
 William Moulton, sergeant.
 William McGhie, sergeant.
 William Haws, sergeant.
 George A. Wilson, sergeant.
 Jonathan Clegg, drum-major.
 James Shanks, fife-major.
 James Duke, drum-major's adjutant.

William Chatwin, private.
 Edward Payne, private.
 Alfred Ward, private.
 Geo. T. Giles, private.
 Thomas Rasband, private.
 James Cole, private.
 Thomas Hicken, private.
 David Stephenson, private.
 William Richardson, private.
 John Ritchie, private.
 William Watson, Jr., private.
 Samuel McFee, private.
 Henry Nelson, private.
 Noah Mayoh, private.
 James Nash, private.
 Frank Wilson, private.
 Jasper Boren, private.
 Edward Stocks, private.
 James Gurr, private.
 Hiram Bigelow, private.
 Ephraim Hanks, private.
 Francis Kirby, private.
 George Brown, private.
 Moroni Mechem, private.
 Reuben Gurr, private.
 John Andrews, private.
 J. R. Miller, private.
 Lewis Poiree, private.
 John Davis, private.
 Louis Winelob, private.
 Thomas Smith, private.
 Frank Wilson, private.
 Henry Luke, Indian interpreter.

This company was mustered into Heber City, May 1, 1866, and to duty in the northern range where they performed service for two months.

Jacob's company—infantry.
 Epperson, major.
 Jacob, captain.
 W. Wilson, 1st lieutenant.
 Cunningham, 2nd lieutenant.
 Dabbling, 2nd lieutenant.
 McGhie, 2nd lieutenant.
 Abplanalp, 2nd lieutenant.
 Low, 2nd lieutenant.
 Thompson, 2nd lieutenant.
 O'Neil, sergeant.
 Gerber, sergeant.

Utah Indian Reservation.

John Gallagher's company—infantry.
 John Gallagher, captain.
 William P. Reynolds, 1st lieutenant.
 John Lee, 2nd lieutenant.
 Henry Chatwin, 2nd lieutenant.
 George Thompson, 2nd lieutenant.
 Samuel Rooker, sergeant.
 Robert McKnight, sergeant.
 Cornelius White, 2nd lieutenant.
 James Watson, private.
 David Barney, private.
 William Giles, private.
 Thomas Moulton, private.
 John Cummings, private.
 William Thompson, private.
 Richard Smith, private.
 George Noakes, private.
 Elishua Jones, private.
 Anthony Brown, private.
 Daniel McMillan, private.
 F. Kirby, private.
 F. Manning, private.
 James Reed, private.
 James Taylor, private.
 Thomas B. Sessions, private.
 Peter Backstrong, private.
 Thomas Giles, private.
 William Ryan, private.
 George Daybell, private.
 John Crismon, private.

This company was mustered into service at Snake Creek, Wasatch county, and assigned to duty in the mountains in that vicinity.

His special work in ecclesiastical success.

In temporal matters he took quite an active part. Was assistant manager in the Wasatch Development Company. Acted as President of the Wave Publishing Co. Cashier of the Bank of Heber City, and Secretary in the Timpanogas Irrigation Co.

At the organization of Uintah Stake, he was called to assist in the work there and has become interested in land there. In politics he is an ardent republican, believing, however, that the republican party is not wholly good nor its opponents wholly bad. He was elected County Commissioner for the two year term in Wasatch county at the election held in November last.

His labors in the county have made him some friends and possibly some enemies, but he has continually tried to do his duty as he saw it.

EDWARD BUYS.

Edward Buys has been a resident of Wasatch county for thirty-seven years. He moved here from Bountiful, Utah, arriving at Charleston, October 10, 1869, and took charge of the Joseph E. Taylor farm at that place. This, however, was not his first acquaintance with this valley, as he and George Buys, of that name, passed through in 1860 with a large train of oxen, loaded with flour on their way to Denver, Colo., and while camping at the lower end of the valley, lost about forty head of their oxen, which so far as he knows, were never heard after.

His parents, Hyrum D. and Elizabeth Huntington Buys, joined the Mormon church at Albany, N. Y., at an early date in the history of the church and joined the main body of saints at Nauvoo, about the year 1840.

He was born at La Harp, Hancock county, Ill., October 22, 1841, and came with his parents to Utah, arriving at Bountiful September 15, 1850. His father died five years later leaving his mother with a large family of children, Edward being the oldest son.

Mr. Buys has been a prominent figure in this county on account of his having taken charge of threshing machines and saw mills and repairing steam boilers and other machinery.

He was a violinist in the early days and furnished the music for many of the dances and other amusements.

He built the first house with a shingle roof in Charleston, and was the prime mover in the organization of a school district at that place. He was the first homesteader on Daniel's creek and the settlement that was afterwards made there was called "Buysville" after him.

He has been county surveyor for several years, and is deputy sheriff of Wasatch county at the present.